Knowledge Is Power

Man's knowledge of physical laws has resulted in harnessing and using water, steam, electric, and atomic power. Man's knowledge of the laws of health has resulted in the control of many diseases which has added years to the average life span. Man's knowledge of human relations has resulted in the power to increase the efficiency of educational methods and to broaden political and religious influences in the world. The power resulting from knowledge of law may be for good or for evil. The same power of an automobile that can take a doctor to save a life may drive the automobile into a telephone post and take a life. A knowledge of spiritual laws, both good and evil, results in spiritual power as definitely as the knowledge of physical and social laws results in physical and social power. The educational world, no doubt, is majoring in acquiring knowledge of a physical world and in producing physical power. The great need for knowledge is in the spiritual world. Trevecca College is among the few institutions that the world is depending upon to acquire the knowledge and produce the spiritual power which is the major limiting factor in supplying the world's greatest need.

Our Buildings

Administration Building

McClurkan

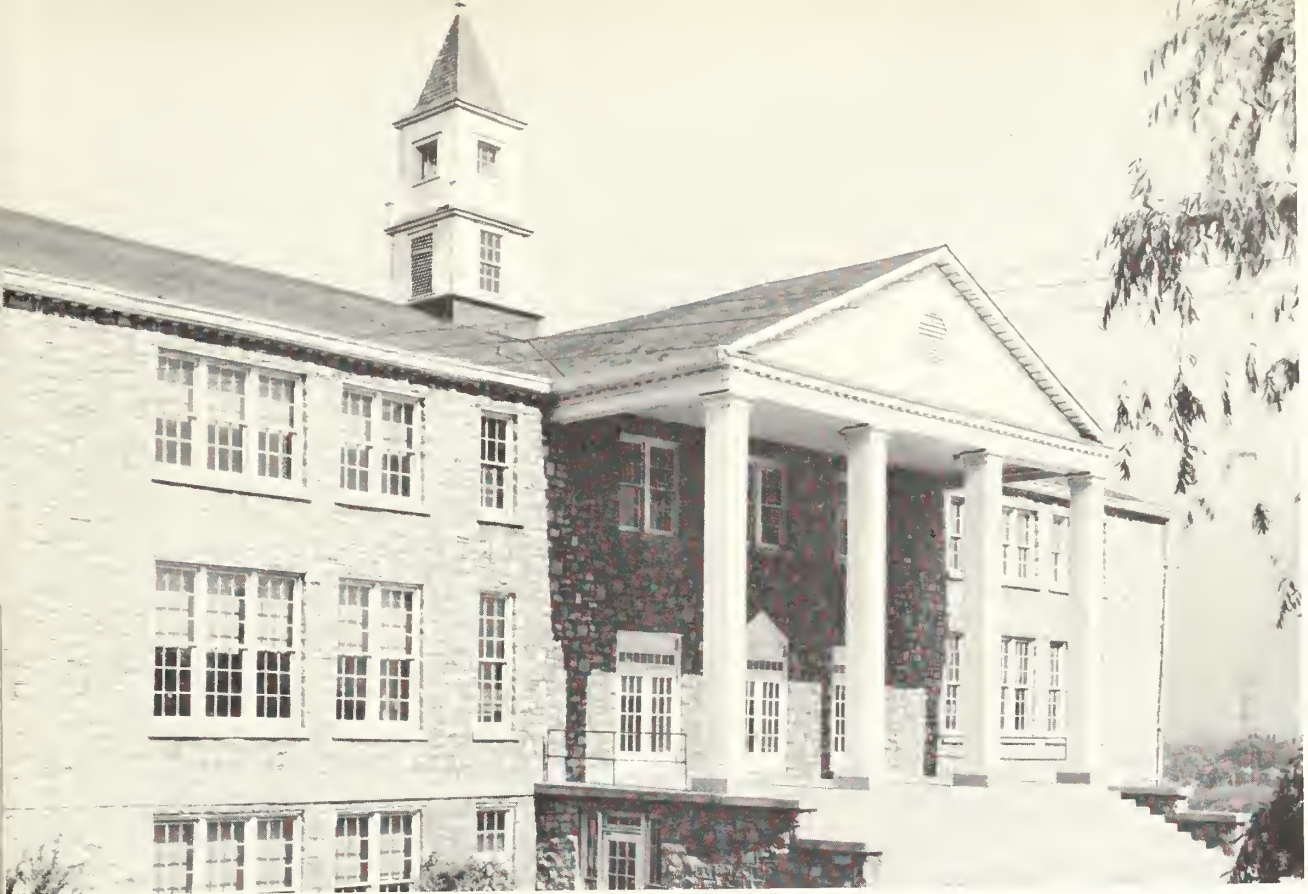

Year by year, Trevecca moves ever nearer to the two-fold goal—once almost an idle dream—" a four-year college and a million dollar campus." In this mid-century year, there leave these halls near fifty graduates with the degree Bachelor of Arts. We are a four-year college. The other half of the story: College Hill is topped by buildings valued in the second half of that million dollars.

McKay Hall

Hardy Hall

The dreaming has not stopped. We already look beyond the first goal posts and see "to the Southern Association of Colleges and a Building for every Department."

We as students are grateful for the opportunities that are ours. Trevecca offers us a chance for improvement physically, intellectually, and spiritually. With the instruction we receive our lives are made more useful.

. . . study

The college mind operates in a cloistered sphere. It is, in its most receptive state, shut away from the pressures of a bargaining world outside it. Within its chambered nautilus there grow in quiet the faculties and powers that one day must brave the tumult of more mundane existence. What is the force which builds in silence the strata of fortitude, character, and learning that will stand life's tests? It is Study.

How about a date?

Genuine and enduring friendships are formed at Trevecca. Here is the proving ground on which the seeds of good-will, faithfulness, and charity toward all can grow and multiply. A spirit of Christian love radiates from the students, which seems to permeate the surroundings at Trevecca.

The Christian Workers' Association is composed of those students who are engaged weekly to go to the hospitals, jails, workhouses, juvenile courts and street meetings. All students who wish to take part in these services are members of this organization.

Each Monday evening this association holds a service in which prayer is made for those visited on Sunday.

This work gives to each student practical experience and to those who hear an opportunity to receive "Our King."

BAND

The band is a rather new, but welcome organization on the campus. Its members have participated in several occasions including an entertaining band concert. Prof. William H. Howick is the capable conductor of this group.

Under the skillful direction of Prof. William H. Howick the Trevecca Orchestra has had a successful year. The orchestra has added much to the music of our chapel services, and on several occasions it has supplied music for programs in the city.

CHOR

The Trevecca College Choir is composed of a select group who are interested in giving to the world a song which will live through the days to come.
