Congratulations to the 2001-2002 Darda staff on the production of this "yearbook of the century." The work of this volume enables us to reflect on one hundred years of ministry in Christian higher education.

The symbol of the torch has been present in most every insignia of Trevecca for a century. My research provides no historic moment in which some official body "decided" to use this symbol. Rather, the message of the torch found natural expression in our logo on two counts. These symbols find expression in the two stained glass windows of the Waggoner Library dedicated in November 2000.

The flame in the north window represents the presence of God. It calls to mind the flaming pot by which God sealed his covenant with Abraham, as well as the burning bush, the fire that consumed the sacrifice when Elijah prayed, and the tongues of fire at Pentecost. Behind the flame is the outline of the cross and the Holy Scriptures.

The flame in the south window adorns the "lamp of knowledge." Behind it is the outline of a book. It represents the accumulated knowledge of the ages.

So, the question of the two windows is "upon which does Trevecca rest?" Is it "God's presence" or "knowledge" that provide an authority base for all we do here?

The answer? Both! We certainly cannot exist without God's presence. On the other hand, we cannot fulfill the mission of the school without knowledge.

So through the decades the flame has made its way to our logo. Sometimes one might think it stands for God's presence. Other times one might conclude it stands for knowledge. In fact, it ALWAYS STANDS FOR BOTH. And should Christ delay his return and this school celebrate another century, I trust the torch will still be present in our logo reminding us of our dependence on God and our role in the dissemination of knowledge.

BLESSINGS!

Janice Milby Greathouse

was reared in Greensburg, Kentucky. She graduated from Trevecca with the class of 1967 as an English major. While a student, she edited the 1966 Darda, sang in Treble Tones and A Cappella Choir, was a class officer, and a member of student government.

Mrs. Greathouse earned an M.A. in English from Vanderbilt University and did additional graduate work at Western Kentucky University. She completed coursework for the Ph.D. in rhetoric and composition at the University of Louisville.

Before coming back to Trevecca, Mrs. Greathouse taught English in Metro Nashville Public Schools as well as at Mid-America Nazarene University, Lindsey Wilson College, and Campbellsville University. She is currently in her sixth year as director of public information for Trevecca. She has been the yearbook sponsor for five years and is a project thesis coordinator for the MHR Program.

"While I enjoy my work in public information, my first love is teaching. I love working with students, helping to empower them by teaching them how to write and opening their minds to the writings of others. Working with the Darda has given me another opportunity to work with students."

Mrs. Greathouse was chosen to receive the honor of dedicatee because of her involvement with not only the Darda staff but also the Trevecca Community as a whole. She loves the students and wants the best for them.

While many may not pass by her fourth-floor Adams office every day, Mrs. Greathouse is actively involved in the dealings of the University.

As part of her duties as director of public information, Mrs. Greathouse is involved in such activities as creating, editing, or proofreading every document, press release, or publication (such as the Darda) that the university makes available to the general public.

In addition, she was general editor of the Trevecca Centennial series, the five volumes of Trevecca's history for its first century.

Mrs. Greathouse also is responsible for ensuring Trevecca with a 2000 Darda, after unfortunate circumstances which detained the book from production for nearly a year and a half. The book was finally completed in late 2001, with distribution in early 2002.

In addition to Jan, the Greathouse family includes four Trevecca alumni: her husband, Mark, and two sons, Matthew and Wesley, as well as her daughter-in-law Angelique. Her father-in-law is former president of Trevecca, Dr. William Greathouse, for whom the science building and the prestigious Nazarene Theological Seminary scholarship are named.

Writing on the wall

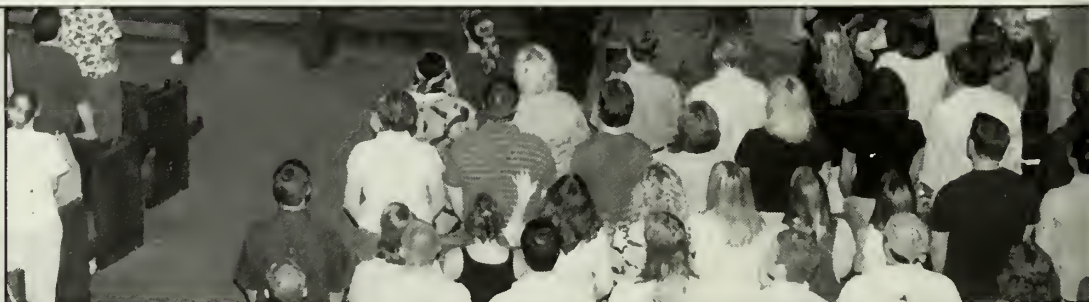

The walls of Trevecca Community Church summed up the happenings of Chapel services.

The torch of the Christian faith has been entrusted to every member of the faculty, staff, administration, and student body. Each one has carried the light of hope and peace that has graced the hill, taking that light to the ends of the earth. Every individual has recognized the significance of the Body of Christ and has celebrated the life that comes only through our meeting together in worship and praise, the life of Christ.

Citizens of another kingdom

"In the midst of our busy schedules and diverse backgrounds, the Trevecca community stops twice a week to be reminded of our common citizenship in a kingdom built not upon our own achievements and performance but upon divine grace and mercy. Through the songs we sing, the scriptures we read, the prayers we pray, the messages we hear, and the 'grace and peace' we pass, TNU Chapel provides us the opportunity to acknowledge the self-giving sovereignty and love of God and to celebrate His grace that is at work in and through us."

"Among the memories of school days Trevecca students will cherish are those times which are spent in chapel. The warmth and glow of the Divine in our midst make it the most elevating hour of the day. We sit at the Master's feet, and truly new fervor and peace fill our soul. . . . Though we depart to the East, or the West, the Christian fellowship and love which we received will follow us and hold us steady in years to come."

RoundTable

Fueling the flame of passion

"In the fall of 1998 the Trevecca Community crowded into Jernigan lobby for the first student-led praise and worship service, called RoundTable. Meeting at 9:00 on Wednesday evenings, RoundTable moved to the Apple Dinning Room in the fall of 1999. Each week a wide variety of students came together to praise the faithfulness of God. Students brought themselves to the table, everything they have and everything they are, laying their lives before the Holy God. RoundTable is designed to praise the One who accepts the gifts of our hearts and gives the call to go out and to be sent in His name."

-Philip Allred, Student Chaplain

May the circle be unbroken

"Lifeline has focused on the prayer life of the campus through weekly community prayer. It met on Wednesdays after Chapel in the Quad. Sharing prayer requests and praises, the students closed the sessions with a group prayer time. This time of prayer was begun to allow the students an opportunity to join with others in prayer for their lives as well as for the campus.

The flame of fellowship has always burned brightly in the hearts of every Treveccan. Through such events as TWIRP weekends, concerts, and Homecoming, the community learned what it was to fellowship and enjoy being together. As events were scheduled throughout the years, the hopes were to begin a new tradition that would last through to the next generation, lifting the flame for others to follow.

Learn, Engage, Apply, Develop

Following the mission statement of Trevecca Nazarene University, the L.E.A.D. Program has been designed to train leaders. Open to all students, the program has encouraged participants to explore and develop their leadership potential. The program is also designed to prepare students for the responsibilities of leadership in service in the university and society.

SARAH MILLER

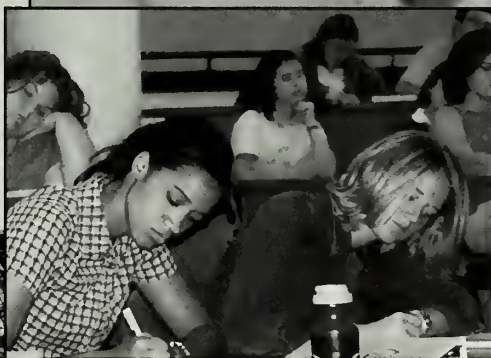

FOUNDER OF L.E.A.D.

"Students may not realize it at the time, but the information and skills they receive in the seminars will help them in the future. I participated in a program like (L.E.A.D.) in college, and I often refer to or remember something that I learned from the seminars. . . .

I have a real passion for helping people develop leadership, teamwork, and people skills. I feel this way because having these skills is essential. . . .

My goal is to produce outstanding leaders who love to serve and work together. I want students to realize that we need strong Christian leaders in our society and that actually people are looking for them. I want Trevecca students to step up to the challenge and go out there and be leaders in society."

'Although most audiences attend Guys and Dolls performances for the music, Damon Runyon's truly 'fabulous' menagerie of troubled characters are the most compelling features of this icon of American musical theatre. Perhaps we might even recognize glimpses of ourselves in some of these restless caricatures. When the stage breathes life, song, and dance into Runyon's world, we connect in the most delightful ways with the meager truths packed away inside of each character's story. And we're reminded of our own lives and, at moments, the choices that have come to shape them."

Commencement

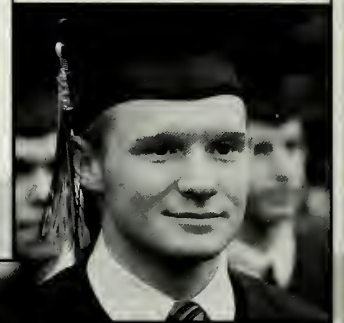

The Turn of the Century

The academic year

culminates with graduation exercises, completing the intellectual journey of numerous seniors. This commencement marked the beginning of Trevecca's second century of existence, closing yet another chapter in the life of the community.

Communications majors Jeff Greaser, John Merrick, and Ken Barnes anxiously awaited the beginning of their graduation from TNU.

STEPHEN RUTHERFORD

The illumination of friendship shone bright in the life of the Trevecca Community. Indeed, the community could only exist as long as there are those to share it with. The following pages shed light on who shared in this life during the year.

Favorite Memory @ TNU
"My sophomore year, we beat Freed-Hardeman on a last-second shot at home. The fans were incredible! That shot sent us to the conference championship game against Union University, and ultimately to the team's first national tournament. We won our first game of the tournament by 1 point and made it to the sweet 16."

Favorite Scripture
"My brothers and sisters, whenever you face trials of any kind, consider it nothing but joy, because you know that the testing of your faith produces endurance; and let endurance have its full effect, so that you may be mature and complete, lacking nothing.

"If any of you is lacking in wisdom, ask God, who gives to all generously and ungrudgingly, and it will be given you."

While the University

35 years and counting was reveling its centennial milestone, the on-campus radio station, WNAZ, was celebrating thirty-five years of broadcasting. This non-profit, listener supported station was started in May of 1967, broadcasting with only ten watts of power! Growing to 1,400 watts, WNAZ broadcasted Christian music and programming and was translated on three stations by its thirty-fifth year: 101.9 FM, Lebanon; 93.9, Gallatin; and 99.5, Clarksville. Programming was also rebroadcast on 91.5 FM, WNRZ, Dickson. WENO, 1330 AM, was also a part of the station, broadcasting Christian talk programming throughout the day.

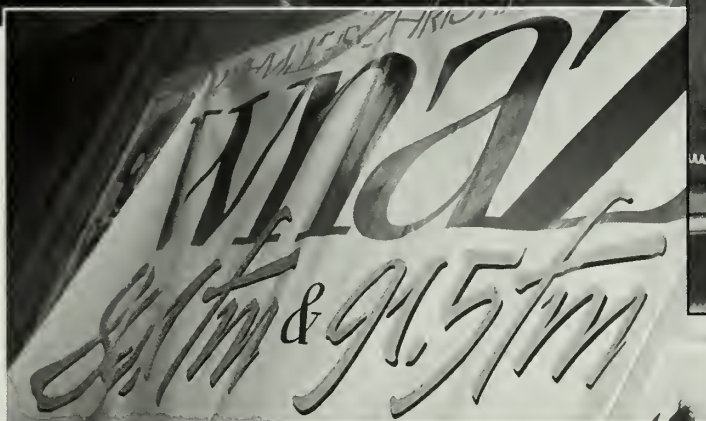

Above: WNAZ adorned its studio walls with record-selling albums and autographs from Christian recording artists.

The embers of remembrance brought many back to an old hill in Nashville over the years. Some were fortunate enough to visit from time to time while others were only able to visit in their memories. The common bond shared by all is the friendship, fellowship, and life in Christ that is Trevecca. Not a single person who has been exposed to this life can deny its calling. Trevecca not only taught knowledge but also taught what it means to be part of the community: what it means to live in the body of Christ.

e n d u r i n g FREEDOM

Tuesday, September 11, 2001, will be remembered as a tragic day that changed the world. That morning, a plot, masterminded by terrorist Osama bin Laden and the al-Qaeda network, was put into action. Two hijacked commercial airliners were flown into New York City's World Trade Center Towers, ultimately causing their collapse. Immediately following the incident, another hijacked airliner crashed into one side of the Pentagon in Washington, D.C, and a fourth plane crashed in Pennsylvania. Thousands of lives were lost, citizens were terrified and the world was in shock.

Following that mournful day the United States experienced anthrax scares, continued security threats and the reality of war. Despite the horror, fear and heartache, U.S. citizens united and their patriotic spirit soared. President Bush promised: "We will not tire, we will not falter, we will not fail." Through that statement and the remarkable sense of national pride exuded by U.S. citizens, it became evident that no threat, great or small, could deter the United States resolve for enduring freedom.

In response to the shocking tragedy, President George W. Bush addresses the nation offering strength, comfort and patriotism.

Ailing airlines urge citizens to defy terrorists' attempts to disrupt lives by reboarding airplanes.

Thousands of people world-wide donate blood and volunteer their services to aid U.S. recovery.

An overwhelming spirit of unity and national pride arises out of the smoldering ashes and human devastation from the September 11 attacks on the United States.
