Foreword

Doors—Doors—everywhere there are doors. Northwest Nazarene College presents doors of opportunity to many young people. All we have to do is to open them and take advantage of the challenges that lie beyond. Also N.N.C. offers a multitude of memories. As you open the covers of this book may you open these doors of memory. Through these pages, we, the annual staff, have tried in words and in pictures to preserve the memorable events of this past year. It is our sincere hope that you will enjoy your 1957 Oasis. Then as you close the doors of N.N.C. this year, may you open them again many times in memory as you look through this book.

Dedication

For opening the doors of your heart and mind to Christian education . . .

For living the Christlike life before us day by day . . .

For understanding us when we fail to understand ourselves . . .

For cooperating rather than complaining . . .

For showing us that kindness and strength go hand in hand.

To you, who by opening the doors of your mind, have opened the doors of success for many . . .

Dr. Gilbert C. Ford

We lovingly dedicate this 1957 Oasis.

Buildings

The buildings of a campus are only four walls composed of boards and bricks. But when the doors of these same buildings are opened to admit students—with alert minds filled with new ideas—and a faculty which does all in its power to guide these minds in the right channels, then the buildings come alive. No longer are they empty shells, but centers of activities where dreams, hopes, and ambitions are realized.

The buildings of N.N.C. are like this. In these buildings students labor and play. They work alone and in Christian fellowship and cooperation.

When students leave the buildings, however, they do not leave them with memories of empty shells; but with memories of them as symbols of some of the happiest years of their lives.

Shelving new books

He that studies only men, will get the body of knowledge without the soul, and he that studies only books, the soul without the body.

He that to what he sees adds observation, and to what he reads, reflection, is in the right road to knowledge, provided that in scrutinizing the hearts of others, he neglects not his own.—Colton
Since I began to ask God's blessing on my studies, I have done more in one week than I have done in a whole year before.—Payson

What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to the human soul. The philosopher, the saint, the hero, the wise, and the good, or the great, very often lie hid and concealed in a plebeian which a proper education might have disinterred and brought to light.—Addison

There are five tests of the evidence of education—correctness and precision in the use of the mother tongue; refined and gentle manners, the result of fixed habits of thought and action; sound standards of appreciation of beauty and of worth, and a character based on those standards; power and habit of reflection; efficiency or the power to do.—Nicholas Murray Butler.

From the time when as a green freshman he is handed a copy of the Library Handbook to the day when as a sophisticated senior he fills out a "cannot locate" card for some elusive book, every N.N.C. student appreciates the worth of R. T. Williams library.

Statistics bear this out for N.N.C.'s record of over 25 books per student checked out yearly puts her in the top twenty-five per cent of U.S. colleges for book use. A number of instructors use the library and its resources for laboratory work in conjunction with their regular schedule of instruction. Mrs. Voget's classes in secretarial science include a unit on the library; education classes meet in the library from time to time to use curriculum and reference materials. And we could go on. . . .

Students have access to the services of three professional librarians, one of whom is always on duty when the library is open.

Head librarian is Mrs. Geneva Bittleston, who came to N.N.C. in 1945. Trained at Western Reserve University, Mrs. Bittleston has headed an expansion program designed to increase the number of book holdings to 25,000 by 1960. Affable, helpful and witty, Mrs. Bittleston is appreciated by faculty and students alike.

In her second year on the library staff, Miss Lois Herron is an alumna of N.N.C. who has returned to serve her alma mater. A leader in her student days, Miss Herron has proved herself a valuable aide in a vital campus spot. During the summer Miss Herron will be finishing work on a master's degree in library science at the University of Washington.

From the leafy campus of a sister college in the South comes Miss Edith Lancaster, newest addition to the library staff. After completing an A.B. at Trevecca Nazarene College, Miss Lancaster obtained a master's degree in library science at George Peabody College for Teachers. In addition to overseeing the cataloging of new books, Miss Lancaster "rode herd" on the seventeen student librarians.

Consider what you have in the smallest chosen library. A company of the wisest and wittiest men that could be picked out of all civil countries, in a thousand years, have set in best order the results of their learning and wisdom. The men themselves were hid and inaccessible, solitary, impatient of interruption, fenced by etiquette; but the thought which they did not uncover to their bosom friend is here written out in transparent words to us, the strangers of another age.

Head librarian Mrs. Geneva Bittleston

Miss Herron and Miss Lancaster, assistant librarians

Northwest Nazarene College is becoming a nationally-known institution!

For instance, the spring of '56 marked the second time an N.N.C. choir has traveled to General Assembly.

Dubbed "Operation K.C.," the great event was planned well in advance and several money-raising activities such as concerts were sponsored by choir members. The result was that the Crusader Choir of N.N.C. was heard by thousands of people in attendance at the General Assembly in Kansas City, Missouri.

Another musical group, The "Collegians," became the first quartet ever to represent N.N.C. at the international barbershop quartet contest held on the campus of Pacific University at Forest Grove, Oregon.

Sports-wise, Northwest Nazarene College toured the nation from Seattle, Washington to St. George, Utah to Portland, Oregon, Billings, Montana, and finally to Kansas City where they took part in the N.A.I.A. national tournament. This marked the first time a Crusader basketball team has taken to the maple court in a national tourney.

Nor did the college lag in forensic fame. All the way from Shreveport, Louisiana came Jack Wright to enroll in N.N.C. as a sophomore. When it came time for the All-Idaho Intercollegiate Forensic Tournament, Jack dusted off one of his original (and inimitable) orations on "The Southern View of Integration" and delivered it to the tune of third place honors.

When came the balmy breezes of spring, members of the girls' tennis team put their heads together with that of Miss Rhodes and decided that they would be the first traveling tennis team for N.N.C. And they were!

Meanwhile there was activity a plenty at home.

The first few weeks of school found campus politics at work with two debate partners, Jim Martin and Jim Ridgeway, heading Young Republicans and Young Democrats, respectively. All major Idaho candidates visited the college and several spoke in chapel.

An already lively intramural program was sparked even more by the creation of two new athletic-literary societies, the Spartans and Athenians.

In drama the fall semester saw the presentation of two successful collegiate productions, "Love Is Eternal" and the Chinese literary triumph, "Lute Song." Kenneth Shen, exchange student from Formosa, aided immeasurably in the presentation of "Lute Song" which won the faculty award.

Cups in the first-year speech contest were won by Kitty White and Clayton Bonar with Doris Ramsey coming in second. Given honorable mention were Phil Campbell and Allan Olson.

Yell King, Jim Hilliard, sparked an outstanding year in pep and participation at ball games.

Summary of Divisionals and Majors

Northwest Nazarene College is a fully-accredited, four-year liberal arts college owned, operated and supported by the Church of the Nazarene.

Down through the years since the founding of N.N.C. in 1913, many a student has found the doors of Emerson Administration Building an open invitation to life and learning as well as portals of preparation for the future.

During those first jam-packed days of freshman registration the new Crusader discovers that majors are offered in everything from A to Z—art to zoology! Majors are offered in art, biology, business, chemistry, education, English, history, home economics, mathematics, music, nursing, philosophy, physics, religion, religious education, sociology, speech, zoology. Divisional majors are offered in philosophy and religion, language and literature, social science and mathematics and natural science.

Curriculums leading to certificates are offered in Bible, religious education and secretarial training. Programs preparing for professional study in schools of dentistry, engineering, law and medicine and in theological seminaries may be pursued.

There is also a curriculum of graduate studies leading to the degree of Master of Arts in religion.

In addition to classroom instruction in the various fields of learning, much of interest to students along vocational lines is offered in the various departmental clubs. Business students find an outlet for practical planning and an inspiration for future careers through the N.N.C. chapter of Future Business Leaders of America.

Future Teachers of America has long been active on the local campus through N.N.C.'s E. E. Angell chapter. Incidentally, N.N.C. had the first F.T.A. in Idaho and can claim the further distinction of having the first state F.T.A. president in the person of Norman Crofford.

The Collegiate Ministerial Association, Home Economics Club and other departmental groups make a real contribution to the lives of those students who find a large share of their extra-curricular activities centered in this expression of their major study fields.

Northwest Nazarene College graduates find that their training at N.N.C. has been adequate for the tasks which confront them. An example of this was seen in a conversation at a state-wide intercollegiate forensic meet this year.

A lawyer who was judging one of the events asked a contestant from N.N.C. what college he was representing. When the boy replied that he was from N.N.C. the judge's retort was:

"Northwest Nazarene College? I had a high school teacher who was graduated from that institution. She was the best teacher I ever had!"

Similar comments may be made about graduates from all departments of N.N.C.

As this year's Oasis went to press, word had just been received that three N.N.C. graduates—Earl Emerson, Wayne Likens and Helen Bogle—have been awarded substantial grants to pursue graduate work in science.

This year's senior class sees Bill Armstrong and Howard Johnson preparing to enter two of the nation's top medical schools.

Northwest Nazarene College is also making herself known in the political realm with Phyllis Hartley on the staff of Senator Henry Dworshak (R) in Washington, D.C. and Jim Ridgeway, an appointee of Senator Frank Church (D). Jim plans to study law and return to Idaho to practice.

N.N.C.'s home economists are filling places of service in all the states on our educational zone.

Nor have we forgotten the host of Christian workers who have gone out from Nampa to spread the glorious gospel of Christ's Kingdom. Preachers, missionaries, evangelists, musicians—call the roll in the Church of the Nazarene and lo, you will find the name of Northwest Nazarene College in bold relief.

Northwest Nazarene College is truly an adventure in Christian living!

Winter months found many a student enjoying snow sports at Bogus Basin and Lake Lowell. The circle drive was lighted about this time and the effect of the new lights against the campus snow was lively to see.

Spring brought a number of interesting and exciting activities.

Campus day offered every student the opportunity to get dirty with dignity.

Pop Frazier's boys cantered onto the diamond clad in brand new suits.

The music department racked up another "first" when they presented an opera, "The Telephone."

A.W.S. girls presented a galaxy of wedding gowns—old and new—in a special meeting.

Mrs. Riley's Shepherdess Club for wives of ministerial students began making preparations for entering the pastorate. . . .

Chapel hours were marked by inspirational preaching by men of international stature such as Jack Ford, Dr. Paul Rees. . . .

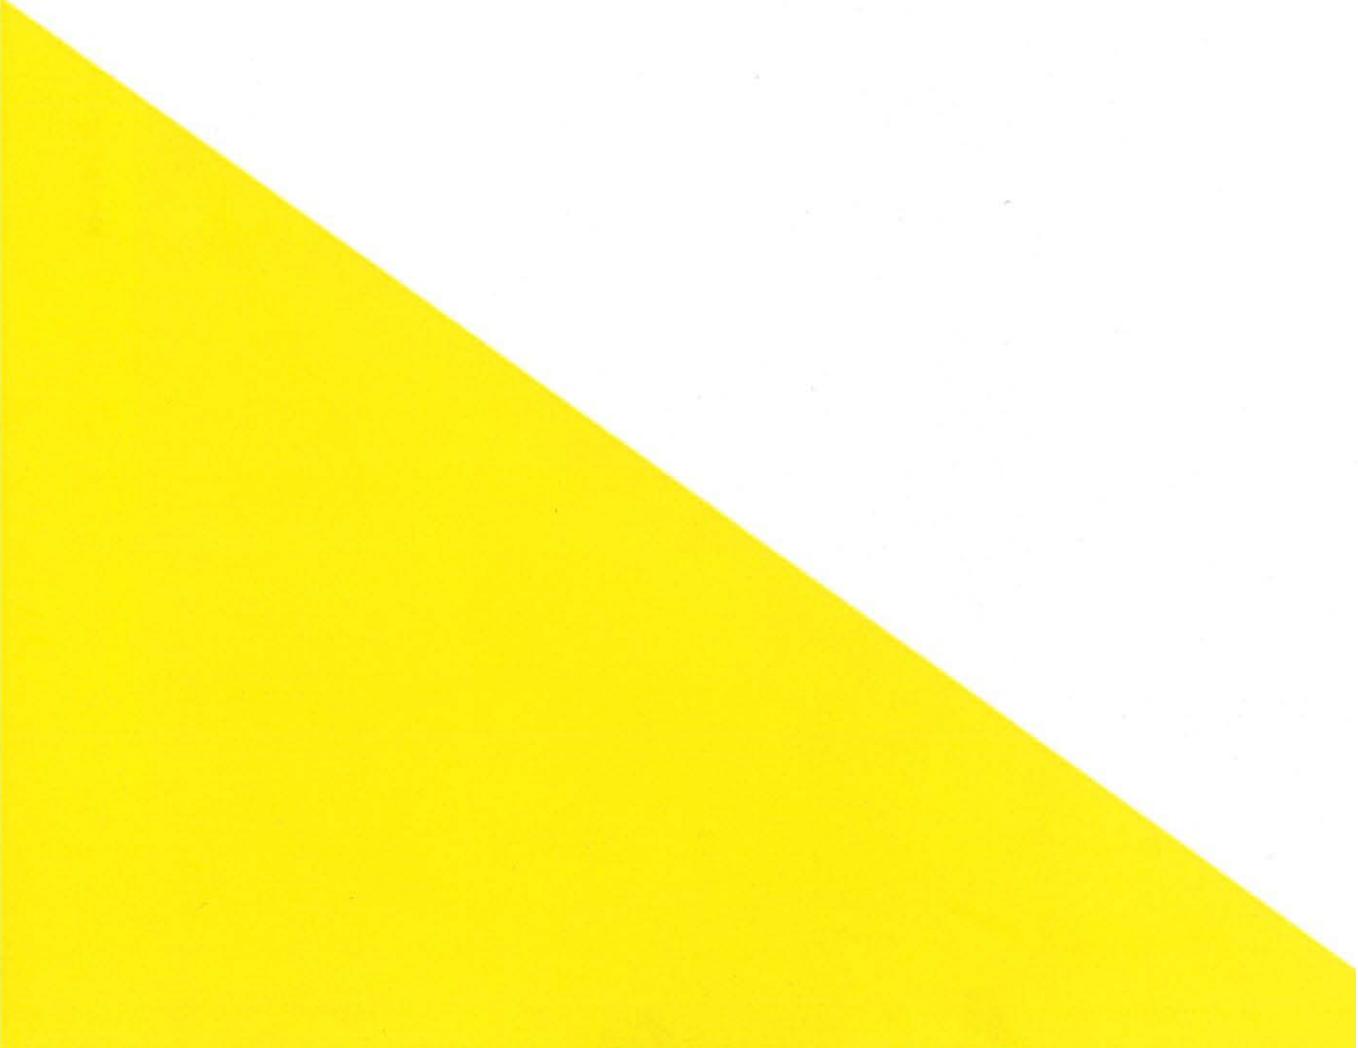

Nothin' to do at a Christian College?

There's plenty of activity at N.N.C.!

NAMPA, IDAHO

To N.N.C. Students, Past, Present and Future:

Every experience which comes to us is like a door, to offer us new opportunity, to shut away from us some desire, or to protect us from some adverse influence.

The idea of the door's protection may seem a little strange to those who have not been very conscious of cold in the far north, or animals in the wilds, or thieves in the big city. Nevertheless, it is a good thing to have a door to close against danger, to shut against the confusion and moral pollution of a secularized age. We do well to learn to shut the door.

The door may sometimes seem to slam in our faces, thwarting some fond purpose and leaving us frustrated and baffled. But it may be that some of our disappointments will turn out to be His appointments. The Lord may close one door to open another. Lesser values lost may produce richer values later. Since one cannot have everything anyway, one is wise to learn to be philosophic in passing things up; one is wise even to learn the hard lesson of being reconciled when some cherished desire is not achieved.

Most doors swing wide with opportunity for enjoyment, for education, for advancement, for service--especially on the campus of N.N.C. The dormitory doors swing open with years of social discipline and development. The dining room doors offer bright hours of fellowship and food, music and conversation. The classroom doors open upon vast worlds of learning. The long vistas of history, the tramp of ancient armies, the quiet scientific research, the beauty and power of literature--endless intellectual adventure is to be had if one walks through these open doors. Then there are the quiet doors of the dormitory prayer chapel, or the mid-week service, or the college revival, or the secret place of prayer. There are the big wide doors of future life, with the sound of hurly-burly politics, the laughter of one's own children around one's fireside, the cry of needy souls, and the Master's call to service.

Let us, each and all, put our hands into the Master's hand and walk through every door to which He leads us with high courage and a song on our lips.

I said to the man who stood at the gate of the year,
"Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown."
And He replied, "Go into the darkness and put your hand into the Hand of God.

That shall be to you better than light and safer than a known way."

Board of Regents

DR. B. V. SEALS
Chairman

Twice each year these thirty-four gentlemen meet here on our campus to study the problems currently facing N.N.C. A representative group of pastors and laymen of the church, these men come from all of Northwest Nazarene College's educational districts.

Under the capable leadership of their chairman, Dr. B. V. Seals, the Board of Regents has solved many of the academic and financial needs of the college. It is to this board of Christian men that we as a college owe much of our success. The actions they take after much prayer, shape the destiny of our college.

Administrators

Holding the keys that will open many doors to students of N.N.C. is the faculty. A dedicated group of Christian men and women, they have devoted their lives to service at N.N.C. It is this group that challenges and inspires us to do our best to keep opening the doors to truth and knowledge.

Although they do not always receive the praise they deserve, the administrative officers and the faculty are the guiding hands that keep the machinery of the college running smoothly.

COFFEE SHOP

"Where the crew flew to chat and chew." This is characteristic of the Coffee Shop, affectionately called the "Bean." It is here that we find the center of social life on the campus.

DINING HALL

The dining hall is characterized by the happy hum of conversation or a quiet reverence as students bow for family worship. It is here away from the formal atmosphere of the classroom that the students have a chance to really become acquainted. This year, for the first time, breakfasts have been served cafeteria style in the dining hall. Approximately two hundred and fifty students take advantage of the services offered by the dining hall.

Student Government

DEB LAWS
Student Body President

At the helm of any successful and going organization there is good leadership. Here at N.N.C. we had that in our very capable and efficient student council. It is to this group that the problems of the student body are presented. In their weekly meetings they discussed and deliberated on these problems, and made the decisions they felt were best for the student body as a whole. In addition to this the student council was responsible for conducting Associated Student Body elections and setting up a budget.

Perhaps the one upon whom the burden of student government falls most heavily is the president. Deb Laws filled this position. Under his leadership we have completed another successful year. A devoted Christian, Deb has been an inspiration to us all. A senior from Kelso, Washington, he plans to enter the ministry.

Ably assisting Deb was Bill Jackson. Bill—who was in charge of student social functions—with his Vice Presidents' Club did an outstanding job of providing half-time entertainment at ball games and after-game socials.

Mary Wing served as secretary, keeping the minutes and posting them for the student body. Clayton Martin was elected to keep an eye on student funds. It fell his lot to collect student body fees each semester.

Making up the rest of the council were a representative from each class, the editors of the school publications, the manager of KROK, a sergeant at arms, elected from the high school, a high school representative, a graduate student representative, and a faculty advisor.

Entering the doors of N.N.C. for the last time the Seniors look back and realize that as Freshmen they knew little of the wonderful experiences that college held for them. Now they stand upon the threshold of life, dreaming their dreams of the gateways of the future.

Truly, time has worked a marvellous change in the lives of these young men and women. These changes can be realized as they look in retrospect through the doors of these four memorable years.

Many events will remain vivid in their minds, but the spiritual victories and chapel services have made the deepest imprint. School spirit and loyalty have made better citizens of them.

As the school year drew to a close, the Seniors began a round of activities—comprehensive examinations, the Junior-Senior Banquet, Investiture, the last chapel service, Baccalaureate, and the final realization of four years of study and growth—commencement.

Their key word is "knock." They have only to knock once on their door of life to view the new horizon. They remember, "Seek, and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you." (Matt. 7:7)

JUNIORS

RONALD KRATZER, President

Each Junior enters a door of specialization, in which he seeks knowledge of his major field. This door beckons him on to develop new loyalties and self-confidence.

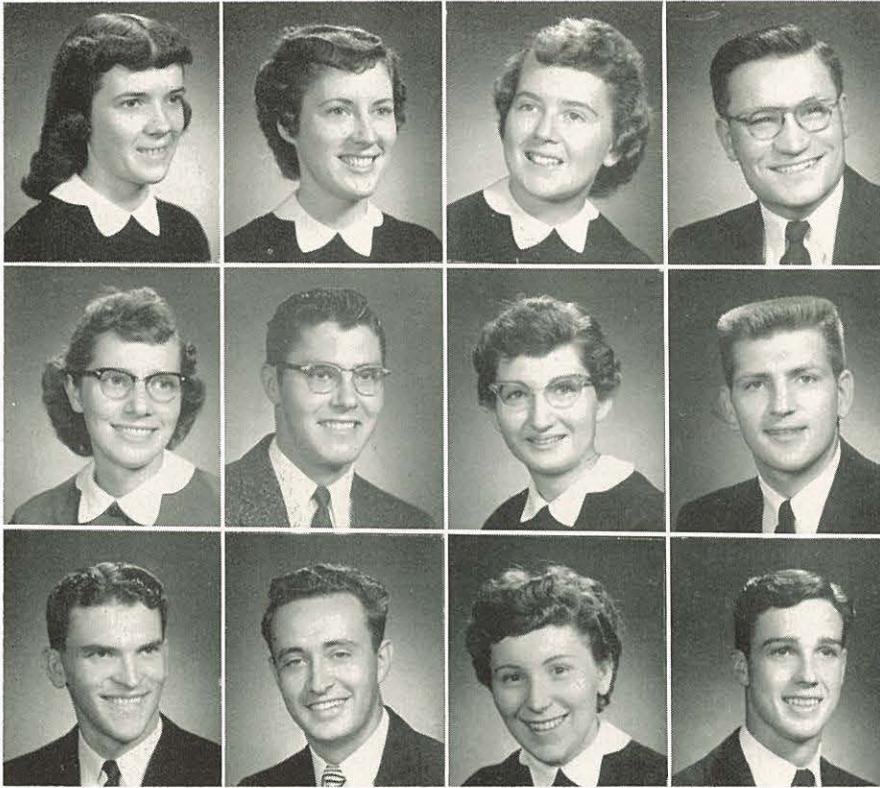

The Juniors are old hands at this business of schedule rush, and for them, college is now a way of life. For the first time this class of 1958 shared the experience of the scavenger hunt. Through their work on the Press Book, and other money-making means, the Juniors honored the Seniors at the annual banquet.

As the year drew to a close, the Juniors looked forward eagerly to the all-important Senior year and the realization of the values gained in coming to N.N.C. They have passed through another door, stronger and happier for their new knowledge.

Duane Peppley and Claudetta Martin, juniors, reigned as the first King and Queen of Hearts at N.N.C. Following the coronation of the royal couple by Deb Laws, student body president, the royal banquet was served. After dinner a special program was presented.

Completing the royal court, elected by popular vote of the student body were seniors—Gary Lund and Shirley Tindall; juniors—Violet Jahn and John Finkbeiner; sophomores—Dan Etulain and Peggy Wood, and freshmen, Don Erickson and Pat Nichols.

The student officials who made the arrangements for the regal affair hope that it will become an annual affair and become another of the traditions of N.N.C.

SOPHOMORES

That great overwhelming desire to see the old gang, brought back this enthusiastic group once again to the campus. Entering the gates of learning, no longer hesitant, the sophomores lifted the bar from their door of limited experience. It swings open wide enough for them to gain a glimpse of the doors ahead of them. Through a year of experience they have grown mentally and spiritually, learned to laugh at themselves, and they are not afraid. Their spirit will be found somewhere between the hesitation of the Freshmen and the overgrown confidence of the Juniors. They have shared the excitement of initiating the Freshmen, the victory of the tug-of-war, and the victory of the flag hunt. Their next door will open to the more realistic, rational world of the upper-classmen.

FRESHMEN

A hesitant hand has turned the knob on the golden door of opportunity, and through it has walked, one by one, the class of 1960. Down through the long corridors each one of them has met with tests, registration, initiation, new adjustments, and although the process was somewhat painful, it was never boring. As the largest class in several years, the freshmen have proved themselves scholastically, socially and spiritually. They came to the campus filled with determination and enthusiasm to grow and let their influence spread. Now, anticipating the future doors of learning, with their unlimited opportunities, the freshmen are eager and determined to be successful.

Dear Sir:

You have been recommended to us from your campus for recognition in the 1956-57 Edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES. It is a pleasure to tell you that your nomination has been accepted.

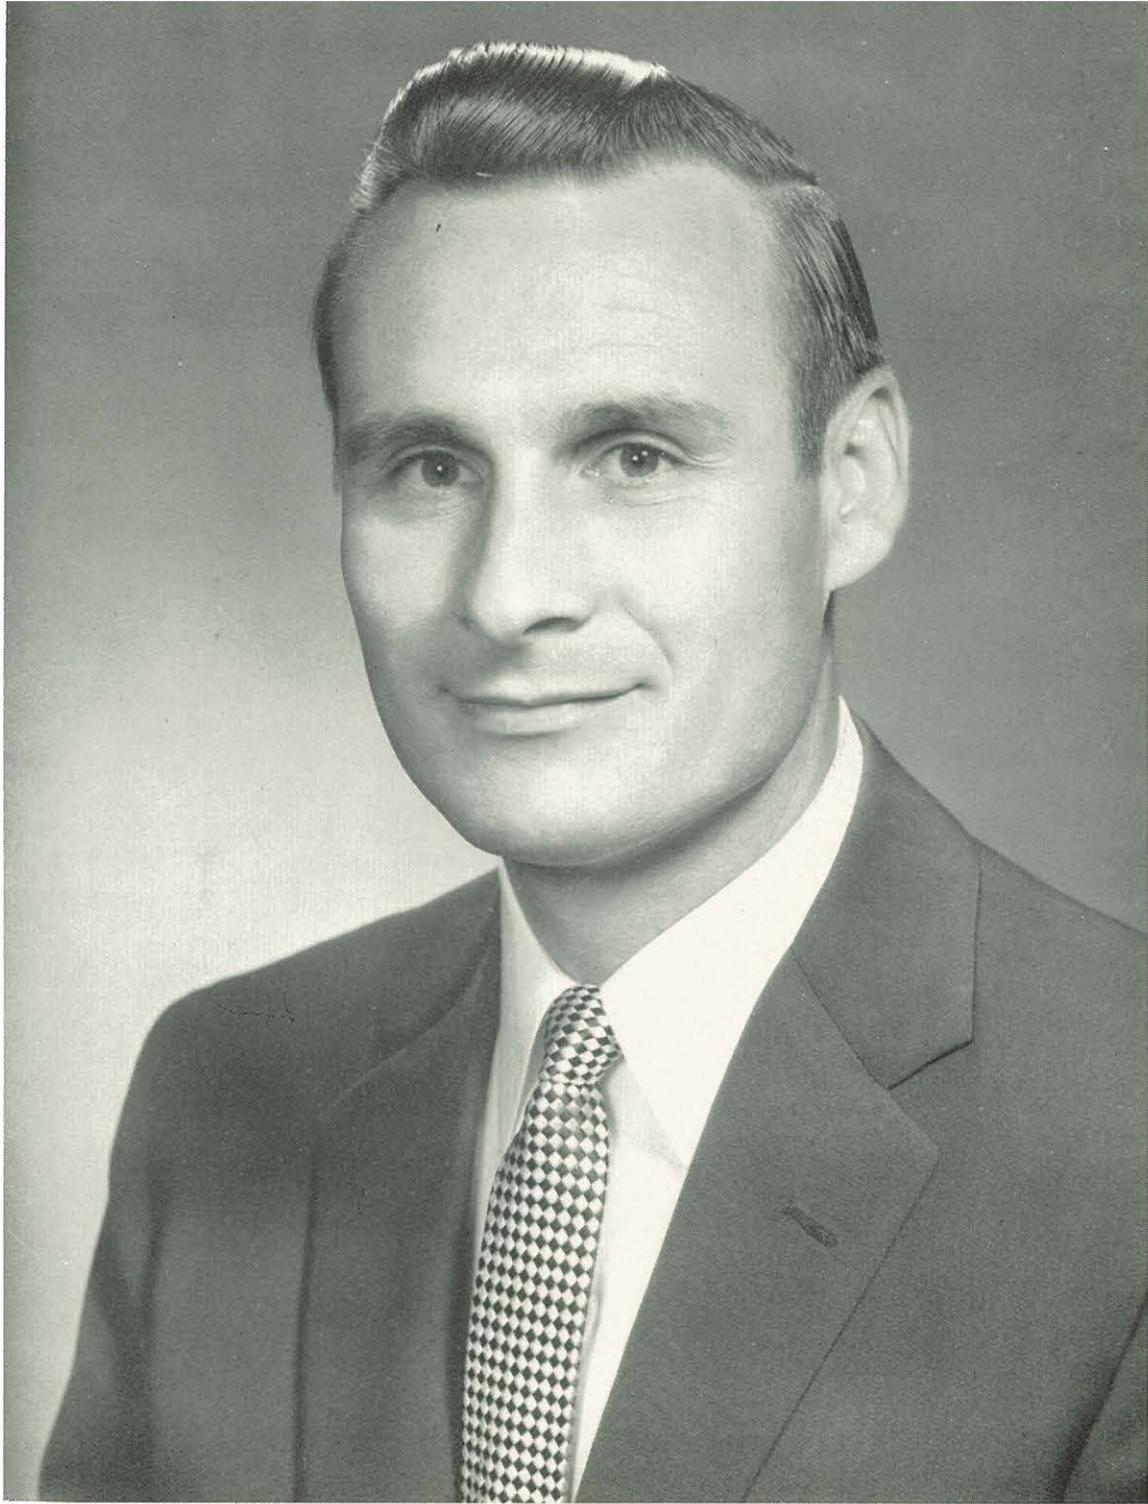

The students recognized in this publication each year are nominated from approximately 675 colleges and universities. Campus nominating committees are instructed to consider, in making their selections, the student's scholarship; his participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities; his citizenship and service to the school; his promise of future usefulness.

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES awards each member a certificate of recognition, presented on the campus either at graduation or earlier in the year. Also, it provides a placement or reference service to assist seniors and graduates seeking employment. There is no cost to the student for inclusion in the publication or for any of these services rendered by the organization.

Before you fill in the blank forms that accompany this letter, please read the Instruction Sheet; this sheet explains the nature of each form and the purpose for which it will be used. It is your responsibility to complete your forms carefully, particularly the two Biography Blanks and to mail your completed forms to this office promptly. Try to return your forms within ten days at the latest so there will be no chance of omission.

Jamboree

All L.S.P. hearts sank as they found they only made a fourth place for all their efforts. There was much pounding of tables and pulling of hair when the A.D.P.'s took the lead once more. The L.S.P.'s came out with several first places in the Speech contest, but fell short in the Music competition. Even the winning of the play didn't help them enough. Many vows were heard from the L.S.P. section to be sure that second semester would find them harder at work than ever for that cup.

OFFICERS: P. Miller, M. Parsons, J. Hagood, P. Jensen, J. Ogburn, P. Condon. Kneeling: D. Etulain.

Olympians

"Once upon a time——" began the Olympians' fairy tale. . . . But the red and white had to end their story with this as they gave up the beloved cup to the A.D.P.'s. All the jumping and hollering they could do did not total enough points for another first place. They held a strong second for the first semester, with the winning of the play, second place Jamboree, and excellence in boys' sports. As for the girls' sports——, well, that's a different story. But no matter through thick and thin, fire and flood, the Olys never give up without a fight.

Alpha Delta Phi

The last victory by the Oly Society must have only served to spur the A.D.P.'s on to regain their long-held first place. They came out ahead in the Speech and Music contest, won Closed Night and the Jamboree to help toward the cup. Their girl athletes were feared by all, and it seemed that no one could even get near them. All of the victories of the A.D.P. Society added to their belief that no other society existed. Ah, well, we sigh again and say it won't happen next time, surely the mighty must fall sometime.

Athenians

Jamboree

This "baby" society gave the A.D.P.'s many scares, in Sports and Music, and even a third place at the Jamboree, much to the delight of the other societies. No one fought harder, or yelled louder than the Athenians, and they did better than was expected after their organization in the middle of the first semester. Their added spirit of competition, along with the brand new Spartans, made a keener contest and added greatly to the loyalty of the other four societies.

The Spartans started off their career with the determined attitude, "We'll show 'em!" And they did! The four "elder" societies look upon them with pride, and are eager to commend their virtues. Yet all are leery lest the Spartans spring upon them unaware. Next year will find this society strengthened through a year's experience, and a greater spirit as they see the rewards of their united efforts.

Sigma Lambda Alpha

Jamboree

S.L.A.'s made sure that all other societies knew they were around. Along with the Olys, the Sigma Lambda Alpha was a constant pain in the side of the cocksure A.D.P.'s. The grand total of points shows that the S.L.A.'s were right behind the Olys, just missing a first semester second place.

In boys' athletics they were strong, but they fell a little short in the Speech and Music. Their second place on Closed Night brought them some coveted points. If there is loyalty anywhere, you will find it right in the heart of the S.L.A. Society.

Society Plays and Closed Night

Originality and elaborateness characterized the Oly, L.S.P., Spartan production entitled "Lute Song." This oriental presentation has been called the "Hamlet of the Orient," and, though unlike any previous dramatic attempt at N.N.C., was extremely successful and entertaining. This play won first semester honors.

The Thanksgiving holidays on campus came to an appropriate conclusion in the form of the A.D.P.-S.L.A.-Athenian dramatic presentation, "Love is Eternal."

Closed Night, the annual kickoff for intersociety competition, was an evening of bitter rivalry and thorough enjoyment. The A.D.P.'s took top honors with an attendance percentage of 68.6. Sixty-one per cent was the S.L.A.'s second place bid for attendance honors. Close on their heels were the Olys with 60 per cent, and in last place the L.S.P.'s.

Jamboree

The annual tip-off to intersociety competition was the basketball jamboree at which each society was allotted a portion of the gymnasium to decorate and use as a background for its skits. Points were given on enthusiasm, sportsmanship, decorations and skit. The competition was tough and the decorations elaborate as the A.D.P.'s came away with first place honors. Tied for second were the Athenians and Olympians, with the S.L.A.'s, L.S.P.'s and Spartans taking 3rd, 4th and 5th, respectively. It proved to be an evening of rollicking entertainment and keen competition starting the intersociety rivalry in splendid fashion.

Sweeping the field of all top honors for team sports were the Oly boys and the A.D.P. girls.

There are many individual activities that many students participate in each year in addition to team competition.

A. W. S.

As usual, the A.W.S. was one of the busiest clubs on campus. Through their many activities every girl had a chance to participate.

The main project for the year was the redecorating of the Ladies' Lounge in the Ad Building.

Outstanding among seven or eight chapel programs was the modeling of wedding gowns from 1906 to the present, with a short talk from a professional wedding counselor.

Their annual activities included, Heart-sister week, Twirp week, Big-Little Sister Tea, pajama party, Thanksgiving Day banquet, and the Senior Tea through which new girls have been made to feel at home, and others have begun to find their niches in campus life.

Men's Club

Living up to its tradition, the Men's Club was very active this year. The highlight of the year's masculine activities was "Stag Night" when the doors were closed to the more petite segment of the student body. The fellows enjoyed boxing, wrestling, and a feature-length film on baseball. The beard growing competition and sweater contest also contributed their portion to the evening's novelty.

Another successful activity of the Men's Club was the sponsoring of "Drag Night." This time the doors were flung open for the feminine half and a gay evening of excellent entertainment and games was enjoyed.

In their monthly meetings the men had many special speakers who treated subjects particularly pertinent to the interests of the "stronger" sex.

MORRISON HALL

The sound of buzzers ringing—midnight parties—singing in the parlor—temperamental washers—midnight cramming—are all glimpses of an indispensable part of dorm life at Morrison Hall.

As the home of upper division women students, Morrison Hall wields a strong influence on the campus both spiritually and socially. The dorm prayer meetings are a vital part of each girl's life.

This year the girls have had their parlor painted and redecorated with new furniture and a wall-to-wall carpet. As a social center, the parlor is one of the busiest places on campus.

As another addition to the girl's college home, a new kitchen has been added for their convenience. The girls have helped furnish it.

Overseeing the various aspects of dorm life is the long-suffering dean. The girls are proud of Mrs. Volk, their lovely and thoughtful dorm mother,

BRIARWOOD AND HADLEY

Many of the off-the-record moments of college life are the most memorable. Dorm life offers unforgettable experiences and lessons.

With "give and take" as their motto, the freshman girls of Hadley Hall and the high school girls of Briarwood have learned to eat, sleep, play and study together.

Hadley Hall, filled to capacity, housed just the freshman girls this school year. The newly decorated Briarwood Hall has served as the home of the high school girls.

Devotion times in the dorms were the sweetest, most beneficial moments of the day, for the girls worshiped together and became united in purpose and ideals.

CHAPMAN HALL

With the exception of the ordinary, and maybe a little extraordinary, commotion, Chapman Hall has been an enjoyable men's residence this year. Chapman's recreational facilities were greatly improved, this year, by the addition of a large wrestling mat and two badminton courts.

One of the highlights of the year for Chapman residents was the rollicking Christmas party in the recreation room. Several spellbinding movies were shown and plenteous refreshments were willingly consumed.

Thursday nights were times of spiritual growth as the fellows gathered for their weekly prayer meeting in the parlor.

All in all this was a good year for Chapman residents.

Circle K

Circle K, one of the more active service organizations on campus, was represented at the National Kiwanis convention in Philadelphia this year by Jim Ridgeway and Lloyd Bellamy.

Local club meetings were held each Tuesday afternoon to discuss projects and activities. Circle K members were faithful in their task of ushering during special occasions in the chapel and they took the responsibility of conducting campus tours for new students and motorcade tours for visitors interested in our campus.

At their monthly meetings the members of the Home Economics Club discussed good grooming, personality development and community improvement.

This year's project for the club was a display case in Elmore Hall. Funds were earned through the sale of food and of United Nations Cookbooks.

Three girls represented the school at the convention of Idaho Home Economics Association in Moscow, Idaho. Pat Nine was elected as Editor of the State Newsletter. Ruth Burkhart, club president, was a co-chairman of the state constitution committee.

The Intramural Society contests are sponsored by this club. Their project for this year was to acquire a speaking stand for the Speech Hall. An outstanding chapel program of the Voice Choir from Nampa High School was sponsored by these Spencers.

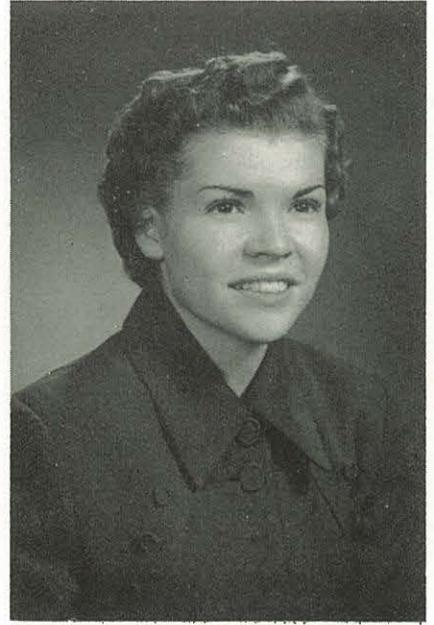

Several members went to tournaments at Pocatello, Idaho; Stockton, California; Boise Junior College; and Linfield College at McMinnville, Oregon.

A committee is working to make the local organization a chapter of Pi Kappa Delta Honorary Forensic Society.

This year has shown a great growth in the membership of the Scriblerus Club. The specific theme of the year was centered around Concord, Massachusetts, the home of many famous American writers. The studies consisted of discussions of Hawthorne, Emerson, Thoreau, and the Alcotts, all Concord contemporaries. The meetings were held in local homes, with the English majors bringing the different studies. The ideas of these literary giants were reflected upon over many a cup of coffee.

Every year the Scriblerus Club sponsors a contest for those who have literary talent. This winner is given the Bertha Dooley Award of twenty-five dollars.

The club was led to a successful year under the leadership of President JoAnn Wilcox and advisor Miss Washburn.

The International Relations Club worked to further its goal of promoting student interest in world-wide affairs by having speakers, films, and discussions on pertinent topics. This year special emphasis was placed on sending delegates to the various I.R.C. Conventions. Delegates attended the Portland Convention and the Borah Conference.

Members of I.R.C. were especially proud of their vice president, Makoto Harada, who was chosen to attend the World Conference on World Understanding in Michigan.

All of our music majors, together with others who are especially interested in music, form the membership of Mu Upsilon Sigma, the Music Club. The main function of the club is to provide a high quality of music for the enjoyment of everyone on the campus. The club presents a fine program of concerts and musical activities throughout the year. At their monthly meetings they have enjoyed films depicting the lives of composers, a lecture by Mrs. Waller about the composer Bach, a paper by Mrs. Swann concerning the Christmas carols of other countries, and a pleasant evening singing chorales at the home of Mr. Hill.

Spring found the Art Club members working busily to complete the projects they had selected for the year. They built and decorated a Crusader emblem for the front of the gymnasium and helped with redecoration of some of the rooms in the art building.

It is the purpose of Beta Chi Alpha to develop in its members an appreciation for beauty and to provide an outlet for their creative talents. To carry out this objective the club has featured Mr. Finkbeiner in a lecture about the inventions in modern art. Miss Dorothy Long has presented talks on Indian Art and Copper Etching. The group has visited the art museums in Boise and at the College of Idaho when they have had special exhibits.

Carrying out their theme, "Careers in Business," they had outstanding speakers from various fields. Among these speakers were Mr. Jim Branvold, Distributive Education Coordinator for Boise Senior High School; Mr. F. Wendell Birrel of the Idaho Typewriter Exchange; and Mr. Charles L. Chalfant, Attorney-at-Law.

F. B. L. A.

Special activities of F.B.L.A. included working the box office at home basketball games, supplying rosters to be passed out at games, and a spring banquet honoring senior members.

Students majoring in Education and those from other fields who plan to teach make up the membership of F.T.A. Future Teachers of America strives to better acquaint students with the problems they will meet in the classroom and to keep them up-to-date on the latest teaching practices. Also, through this club, the students are enabled to meet and talk with leaders in the field of education.

Each year delegates are sent to the I.E.A. District Convention where they gain a further insight into teaching.

Any student maintaining a grade point of 3.4 or above for two consecutive semesters was eligible for membership in Zeta Kappa Rho, N.N.C.'s honor society. The purpose of the club is the promotion of a higher standard of scholarship at N.N.C.

Members of Zeta Kappa Rho were guests of Phi Delta Lambda at a Christmas tea held at Dr. Riley's home. At the close of school the club will hold its annual breakfast. At this time new members will be welcomed into the club and recognized at the last chapel service of the year.

Among the outstanding and successful endeavors of the "N" Club this year were the sponsoring of the cheerleader and the Homecoming election. The "N" Club members also kept busy taking tickets at the basketball games, were often seen working on the new track and baseball field, and assisting in the installation of the lights in the circle drive. Other projects were the sponsoring of the athletic bulletin board in the main hall and the revising of major sport athletic awards.

Gamma Nu Gamma, the girls' letter club, acts as a service club on the campus. It strives to promote wholesome Christian sportsmanship among the women students. Any girl who attains the required number of points, through participation in intramural sports, may become a member.

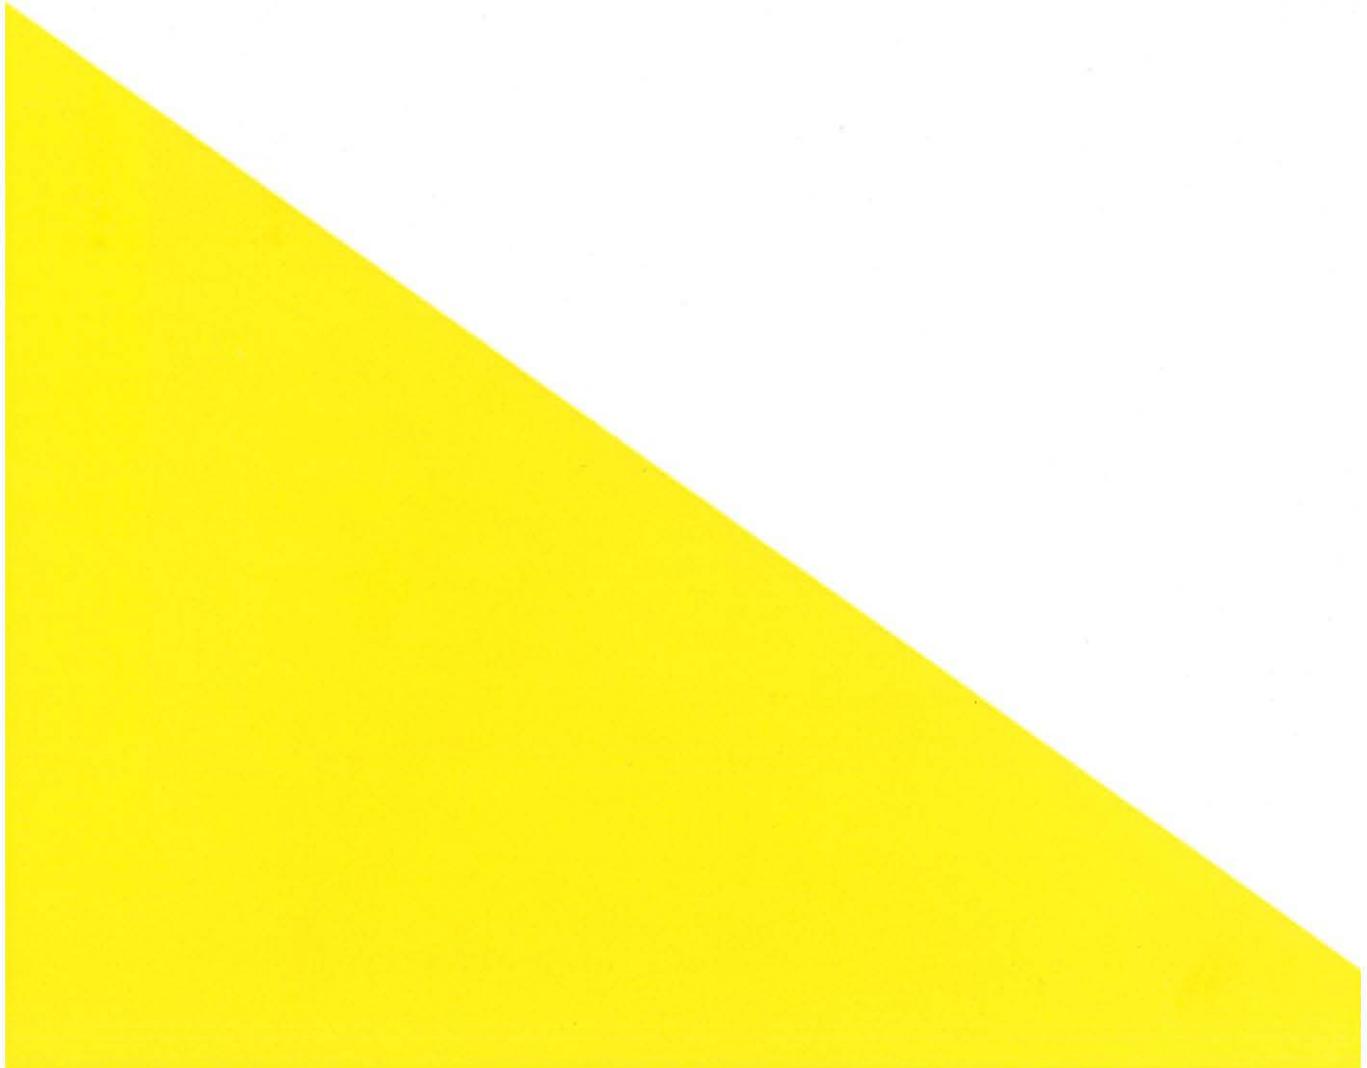

Planning the Homecoming reception, ushering and selling at basketball games, and helping at track meets and baseball games are some of the activities of the club.

This year the G.N.G. projects were purchasing of a permanent Homecoming crown, buying tennis film for instructional purposes, and improving the tennis courts on the campus.

It travels through the air with breathless silence; it penetrates everything, even closed doors, to bring the people of Nampa wholesome entertainment with a Christian emphasis. What is it? It is a carrier frequency of 670 kilocycles originating from the KROK Studios here on our campus. Fifteen students, advised by the able Mr. Vail, donate several hours of their time each week to present programs of news interest, of religious value, and of classical music. Many of the college athletic games were also broadcast.

Probably the highlight of the year for the KROK staff was the day they were in charge of the chapel service and broadcast from the chapel stage.

The radio station serves two purposes: it supplies entertainment for students, and it provides campus news to interested town people. A sincere effort was made at all times to present only material which was entirely in harmony with the standards of the college.

A fine word of gratitude is due these faithful student announcers who endeavored to carry a Christian witness to the people of Nampa.

OASIS

Through the pages of a yearbook, perhaps the most distinguished organ of a college, flows every phase of campus life—the social, the spiritual, and the mental.

Through her careful organization, expert handling of her staff, and willingness to work, Shirley Tindall has proved to be an efficient and praiseworthy editor.

As her happy and hard-working editorial staff Shirley had Assistant Editor LaDonna Nafziger, Make-up Editor Betty Richardson and Literary Editor Noel Riley. Business Manager Tom Nees efficiently solicited advertising from local businesses and churches.

Completing a cooperative and well-organized crew of workers were the photographers, typists and staff members. Harmony and unity of purpose have characterized this year's OASIS staff.

It is the sincere wish of the staff of the 1957 OASIS that this book will become a living memory of this school year at N.N.C.

One notable characteristic of a well-planned newspaper is its tendency to create school spirit. The Crusader is noteworthy in that it has aided in the development of student interest and unity. Through the efforts of the staff many have been convinced of the necessity of active participation in the affairs of the school.

Under the editorship of Roxie Hull, a seemingly tireless staff produced a Crusader for the student body every second Wednesday.

A great deal of work went into the bi-weekly production of this year's Crusader. We should like to commend the whole staff for their faithfulness and the fine work they have done this year in serving the student body.

Crusader Choir

The Crusader Choir provided much enjoyment this year, not only for members of the student body but also for the people of Idaho and neighboring states. In addition to the annual choir tour in the spring, the choir members sang at many churches and schools in the vicinity of Nampa.

Directed by Professor Warnie Tippitt, the choir proved a blessing wherever it traveled. The fine type of Christian music presented by the choir was truly representative of N.N.C.

ORRIN HILLS, Coach

The "winningest" team ever produced by N.N.C., wound up its fabulous season with a 25 win 9 loss record. Big 6' 4" Dave Gardner copped the individual scoring record for the year with a total of 506 points. He also led the team in rebounds with 422. Close behind him were Tom Tracy with 481 points, Duane Peppley with 417, and Bob Peppley with 361.

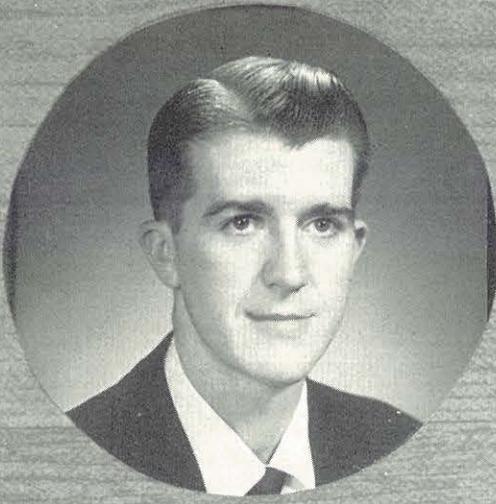

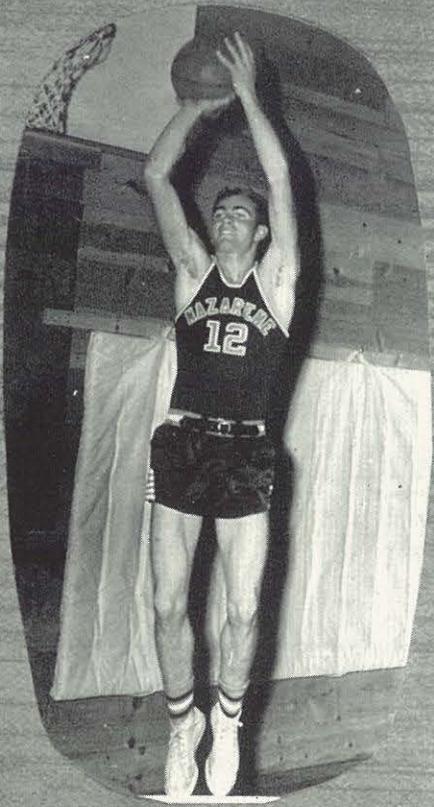

The team played in three tournaments during the year. In December, the Crusaders emerged victorious in the annual Christmas tourney in Lewiston. In the Intermountain Conference, however, they could only manage a disappointing tie for third. Later, at the close of the season, the N.N.C. cagers entered the District 5 N.A.I.A. tourney at Billings. Again the Crusaders fought their way to victory, downing tough Rocky Mountain and Western Montana Colleges. These victories entitled Coach Orrin Hills and his squad to enter the national meet in Kansas City. Here the Crusaders found competition a little tougher, as they were ousted in their first game by top seeded Southeastern Oklahoma, who later took runners up cup in the tourney.

Besides being the first team in the school's history to win over 20 games in one season, the squad was the first to ever represent N.N.C. in the N.A.I.A. Tournament. One of the main reasons for the excellent season was due to the cooperation and good spirit shown by the team. Coach "Tiger" Hills should be duly congratulated for his hard work and enthusiasm in making this year's team one to be remembered for years to come.

Homecoming

Homecoming activities at N.N.C. are always exciting times. The crowning of the Queen and her lovely court amid colorful decorations and the excitement of another team victory made this the eleventh year of royal coronation.

In the ceremonies preceding the game with Weber College, Rosemary Aman was signified as Queen with the crown and robe which were presented by Clarence Kinzler, "N" Club president. Attending the Queen were upper division princesses LaDonna Nafziger and Roxie Hull, and lower division princesses Anita Ogstad and Neola Leinweber.

The perfect ending for a beautiful evening was the banquet held after the game in honor of the Queen, her court and the alumni.

Junior Varsity

Coached by Bob Willard, the 1956-57 Junior-Varsity placed third in the Nampa city league. Starting the season with a record turnout of frosh and sophomores the JV's proved an able testing ground for future varsity material. The JV's provided preliminary tilts for varsity games and traveled to nearby cities playing independent teams.

Spring Sports

The baseball team had another good year, as they ended the season by capturing second place in the tough Intermountain Conference, with an 8 win 4 loss record. The "big guns" in the hitting department were Duane Peppley, .371, Mickey Dean, .369, Don Morgan, .339, and Don Boyd, .310. Leading the "runs batted in column" were Peppley and Morgan with 16 and 14 respectively, and Boyd, Dean, and Brooks with 8 apiece. South-paw Cecil Campbell was the most consistent chucker, as he chalked up an impressive 5 win 1 loss record.

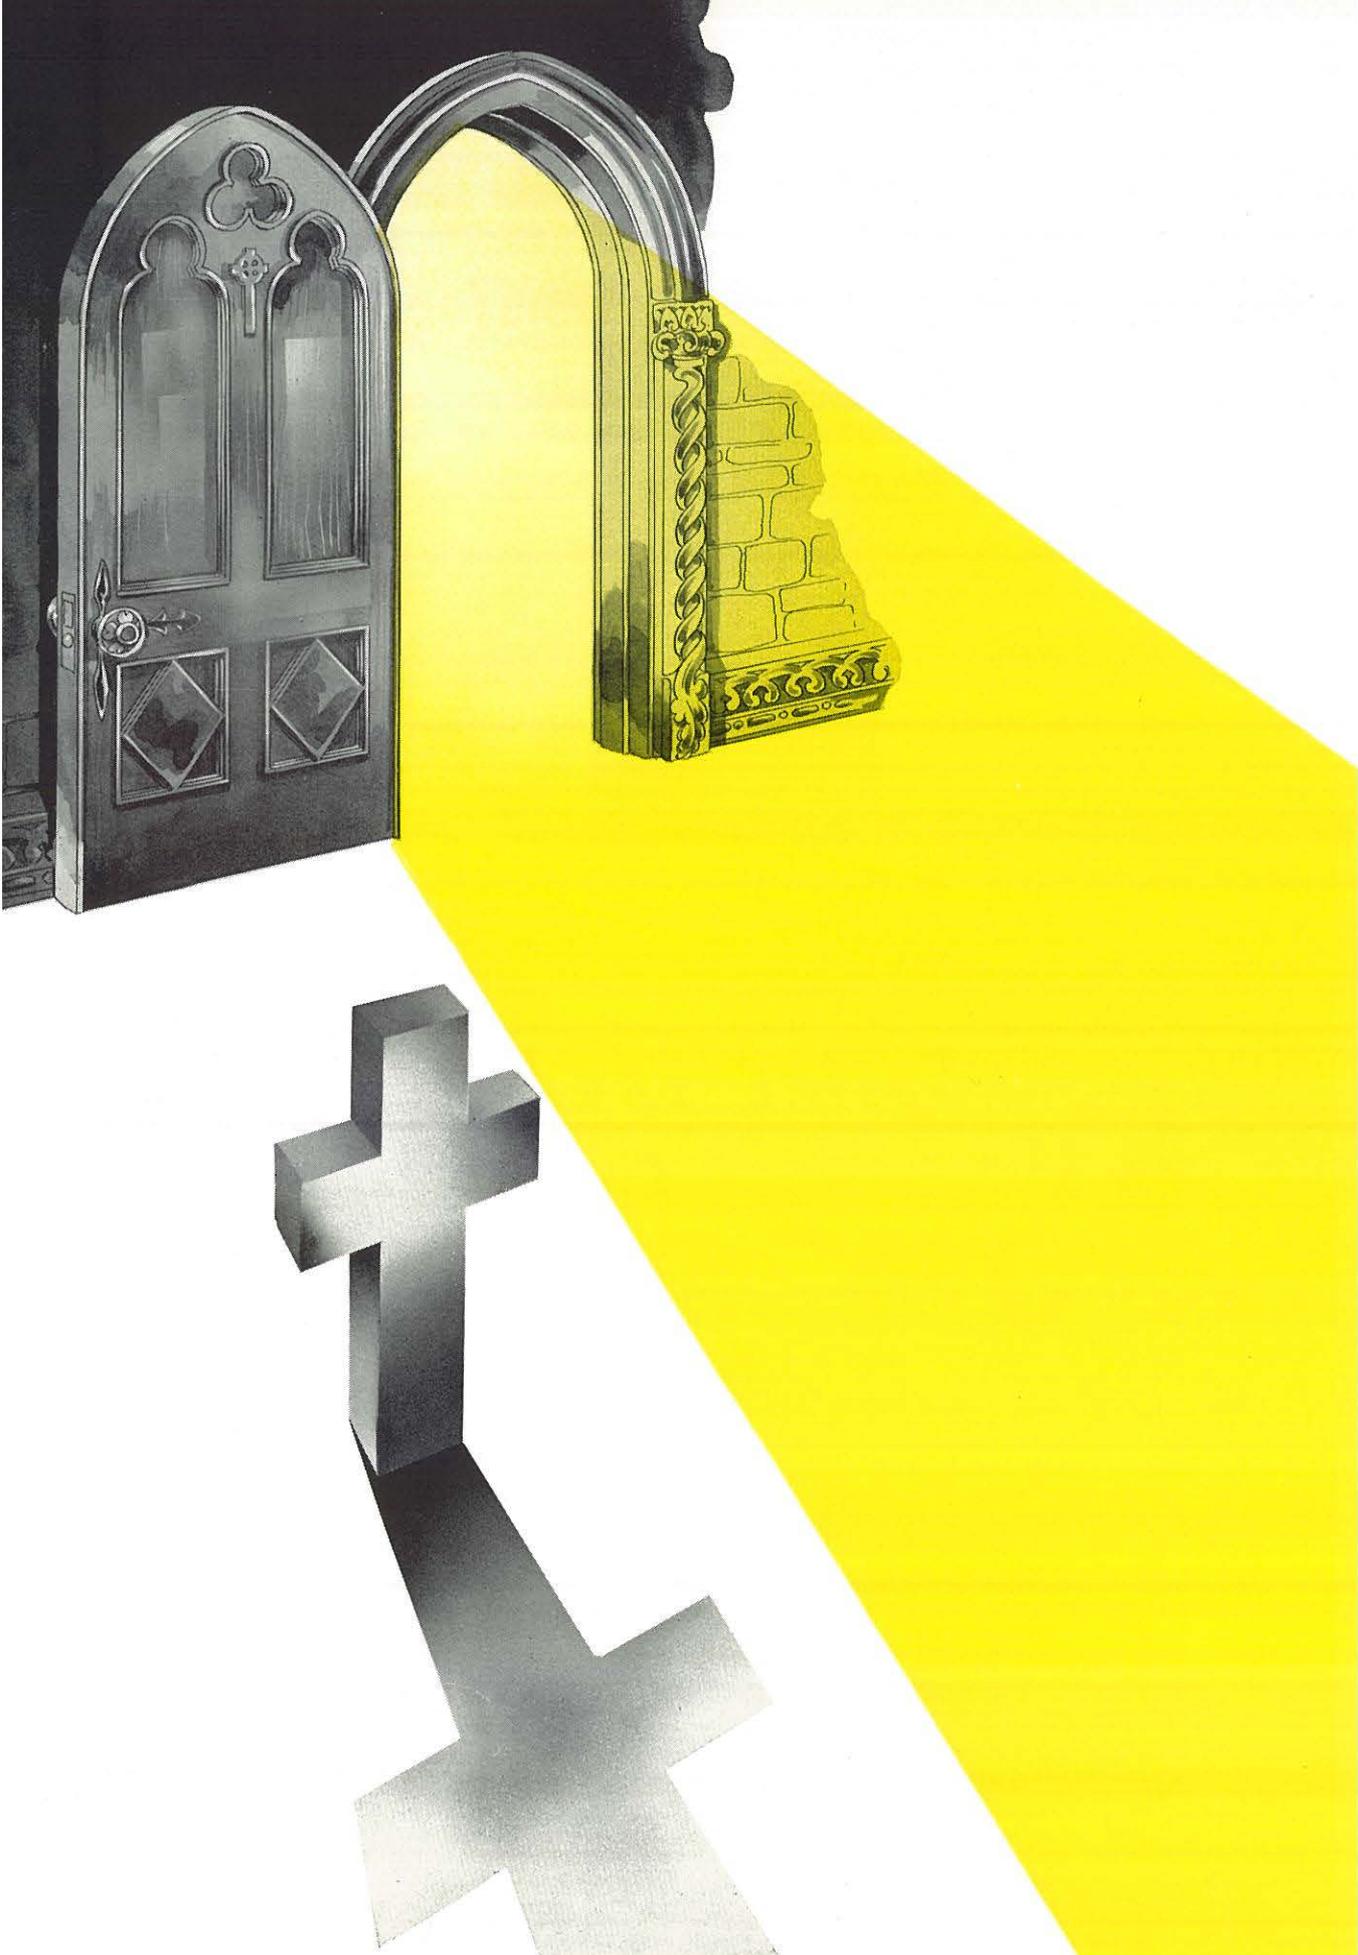

With returning lettermen, Duane Peppley, Bob Brooks, Cecil Campbell, Keith Jones, Jim Nevin, Ben Clouser, Dick Etulain, Daren Flynn, Don Kinyon, Don and Ed Crawford, Coach "Pop" Frazier and his diamond nine have aspirations of reaching the top.

The N.N.C. track squad had an eventful season. With John Finkbeiner, Harry Maine, and Don Constable leading the way, the boys captured seventh in their own invitational meet, third in the E.O.C.E. meet, second in the B.H.C. meet, and first in the meet with College of Idaho. The cindermen then went to the Conference meet at Ogden where they placed fifth. Maine took third in the mile, Constable took second in the high hurdles, and Finkbeiner took second in the 440 and 880.

"Fink" also qualified to go to the N.A.I.A. finals in San Diego. He placed eighth in the nation in the 800 meters, and fourth in the 400 meter hurdles. By token of these merits, he was awarded the first medal any N.N.C.'er has ever won in N.A.I.A. competition.

Lettermen returning this year are John Finkbeiner, middle distances; Harry Maine, distance; Don Constable, hurdles; and Dan Martin, high jump.

The girls' tennis team, active in intercollegiate competition, has a record of 8-1 of which we are very proud.

College High again this year, has received the certificate of full accreditation with the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools. This notification of accreditation contained no advice or warning but did commend achievements attained. This coveted position of top recognition among educational circles is the goal which has been attained after many years of planning and effort on the part of the High School faculty and the College administration. It enhances the value of credits and diplomas granted by College High and is a source of much satisfaction to all concerned.

The preceding pages show the largest number of former College High School students ever enrolled in the College at any one time. We are proud of our alumni for the many places of honor and leadership which they have attained.

All but one of the College High faculty are completing at least two years in their present position and most of them have been with the school for many years. This adds much to the strength and stability of any institution.

College High Student Council is the beginning of actual experience in democratic government and leadership for many students. All matters concerning student government are handled by the council. They also direct all student affairs and assist in discipline problems.

The Student Council offers a good place to show that leadership abilities, Christian principles, and student government can be successfully combined. As a student leader is trained so the training will follow through into his future vocational life.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS

The largest and most active club on our campus is the Christian Workers Band, composed of over 200 students participating regularly in religious services. The activities and plans of the organization are handled through an executive committee made up of the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and program chairman. The members are organized into seven groups, each headed by a group leader. Group leaders for this year have been: Gene Smith, Roger Burkhart, Jim Martin, George Zickefoose, Ken Spicer, Jerry Groenig and Clayton Bonar.

The Sunday activities for each group are packed with rest home visitations, visits to the hospital, singing in the hospital choir and services at the jail. Once a month, a music group is sent to the Idaho State Penitentiary to supply music for the morning worship service.

Another active phase of C.W.B. is the opportunity they have to conduct Sunday and weekend services. It has been estimated from records at hand that over 65 services were held by the young people, utilizing 330 students. During the break between semesters, C.W.B. received 21 requests for weekend Youth Revivals. A conservative estimate puts the total mileage traveled for the year at over 12,000 miles. Traveling groups visited Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada and as far east as Riverton, Wyoming.

Truly, a rich field of service and influence lies out ahead, both for N.N.C. and the kingdom of God.

This group, led by Ron Kratzer, selected as their project for this year raising money to build a native pastor's home. In addition to this project the group provided Thursday chapel speakers and sponsored the weekly Prayer and Fasting hour.

Foreign Missionary Band

The Foreign Missionary Band, led by President Loree Sanders, carried out many projects this year. They assisted in the Spanish work in this vicinity, held special services and gathered used clothing to be taken to the fields.

The Band was originally organized for those who felt a call to the mission field. It is, however, open to any student interested in missionary work.

KING'S HERALDS

L. Hoyle, P. Freeberg, H. Stickney, G. Maxey, and C. Martin.

GOSPEL CHORDS

M. Wing, R. Yount, L. Angier, E. Tate.

COLLEGIANS

W. Johnson, D. Freeborn, W. Barber, J. Quick.

Last summer the School sent three quartets to recruit new members for N.N.C. and to stimulate interest in the school. Through their ministry of song and testimony, the "Gospel Chords," "Collegians," and "Kings Heralds" left a blessing in every church, and a better knowledge of the advantages of a Christian education.

Lectures and Revivals

The Mangum missionary lectures featured Rev. Earl Hunter this year. His fields of service included Guatamala, Bolivia and deputation service in the States.

Rev. Jack Ford, from Ashton under Lyne, England, presented the Miller lectures this year. This distinguished Nazarene minister and scholar presented insight into the religious conditions in England today, a topic of high inspirational value to the student body.

The fall revival was a period that inaugurated a real spiritual awakening this year. The Rev. Ted Martin from Hammond, Indiana, brought messages that stimulated a real spiritual movement on campus and many found spiritual assistance as a result of his inspired messages.

The spring revival campaign was the outstanding climax of the revival spirit that prevailed at N.N.C. this year. Dr. Paul Rees was used of God in a real way and as a result of his soul searching messages many received spiritual help.

College Church

A vital part of the spiritual life of N.N.C. is provided by College Church, the "church home away from home."

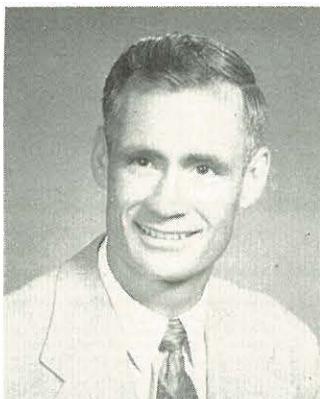

Under the competent ministry of Rev. Eugene Stowe students are made to feel that they have an important part to play in the total church program.

The students have grown to love Chet Galloway, new minister of education and an N.N.C. graduate.

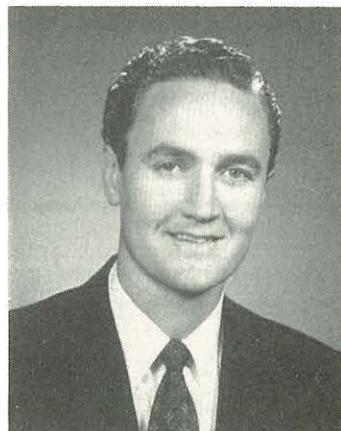

Each student had a place to fill in the total church program. Many students were active, singing in the choir, teaching Sunday School classes, helping with the boys' and girls' clubs, and participating in services.

The "Messiah"

One of the highlights of the Christmas season at N.N.C. is the annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" by the Philharmonic Choral Society. This year the "Messiah" was directed by Professor Wannie Tippitt. The accompanists were Mrs. L. Alline Swann at the organ and Mr. Double E Hill at the piano. Mr. John Eby conducted the orchestra. The Choral selections were presented by a 160-voice choir composed of students and residents of the community. Soloists this year were Mrs. Elva Meckling of Nampa, soprano; Mrs. Lois Barton Chaffee of Boise, contralto; the Rev. David Albright of Nampa, tenor; and Mr. James H. Carkhuff of the N.N.C. faculty, bass. The "Messiah" is presented annually at College Church under the sponsorship of the college and the Nampa Ministerial Association.

Rev. D. Albright, Mrs. L. Roberts, Mrs. L. B. Chaffee, Mr. J. H. Carkhuff

Words of Appreciation

It is completed! What a feeling of relief! But where shall the "Thank You's" begin? Words fail to express the appreciation and gratitude I feel toward everyone who has made the production of the 1957 Oasis possible.

First I should like to thank Miss Washburn for her guidance and well timed words of encouragement. Thanks go also, to Mr. Johnson for his help on the financial part of the yearbook.

Next I should like to thank the editorial staff, LaDonna Nafziger, assistant editor; Betty Richardson, make-up editor; and Noel Riley, literary editor. These girls along with their fine staff put in many long hours, and only with their help was this production possible.

A "thank you" goes to Tom Nees and Al Jones for the excellent job they did as business managers.

I acknowledge with appreciation the fine work of Mr. Braun. He gave us complete satisfaction. I would also like to thank Ernie Fisher and Clayton Bonar, student photographers.

I feel very grateful to Caxton Printers and Artcraft Engravers for the fine job they have done. Especially do I appreciate Mr. Jim Gipson, Jr., with whom I dealt directly.

I want to thank the entire student body for its co-operation and willingness to work; I sincerely hope that you will enjoy your 1957 Oasis.

Shirley Tindall, Editor
