

FROSH WEEK IS UNDER WAY

As most freshmen are probably well aware October 8-12 is Frosh Week.

According to Alan Rhodda, sophomore class president, the climax of the week will be the activities planned for Friday and Saturday.

The annual Flag Hunt between freshmen and sophomores is being planned for Friday night, October 12. The group who finds their flag first after several deceiving clues is declared the winner. Everyone will want to attend and participate in the fun.

The tug-o-war between the freshmen and sophomore men is scheduled for Saturday.

To conclude the week's activities there will be a program in the chapel Saturday evening.

The committee who has been working with president Al Rhodda includes: George Zickefoose, Willie Barber, Kitty White and Peggy Wood.

"Home Ec. Week" Is Established

Mrs. Alvin Aller, president of the Idaho Home Economics Association, and her public relations chairman, Martha Graves, recently were photographed with Governor Robert E. Smylie as he had signed the following proclamation:

Whereas the subject of Home Economics is an important department in the educational institutions throughout Idaho, and

Whereas the people of Idaho take pride in the broad scope of its activities, including in addition to development of household skills, training in family life and child care, the preparation of teachers in this profession, improvement of all phases of homemaking through homemakers' programs, correlating the work of home economists in business firms, and

Whereas it is our belief that Home Economics represents a field of service offering large opportunities to the young people of our state,

Now, therefore, I, Robert E. Smylie, Governor of the State of Idaho, do hereby proclaim the week beginning October 14, 1956, as State Home Economics Week in Idaho and request the appropriate observance of the occasion by all our citizens.

Activities of the week will be climaxed with the Biennial Meeting of the Idaho Home Economics Association, October 19-20, on the University of Idaho campus at Moscow, Idaho. A group of our Home Economics teachers and club girls plan to attend this meeting.

Future Teachers Attend Convention

NNC was well represented by about 40 FTA members who attended sessions of the Third District Teachers' convention in Boise, Monday and Tuesday.

The convention, which was jointly sponsored by The Idaho State Department of Education and The Idaho Education Association, featured various educational workshops, films, and panel discussions. Dr. Thelma Culver, Dean of NNC, was speaker at the sectional meeting on "Teacher Education and Professional Standards."

Guest speaker at the convention was Dr. Eldridge Tracy McSwain, Dean of the School of Education at Northwestern University. He presented many new concepts of the teaching field in his theme, "Vision and Leadership in Education for the Next Decade."

$2000 GRANT IS RECEIVED FROM RESEARCH CORPORATION FOR NUCLEAR PHYSICS WORK

Looking over the letter of notification of the $2,000. grant with Dr. Ford are science students Don Ogburn, Modesto, California, and Kenneth Shen, Taiwan, Formosa. This grant is to support Dr. Ford's project in mass spectroscopy investigations.

Word has been received Wednesday that the Board of Directors of Research Corporation in New York has contributed the sum of $2,000. to Northwest Nazarene College as a Frederick Gardner Cottrell grant.

The grant will be used for the support of Dr. Gilbert C. Ford's project in mass spectroscopy investigations.

Notification of the award was made in letters to Dr. Ford and Dr. John E. Riley, NNC president, from Charles H. Schaurer, secretary of the Board and director of the division of grants.

In expressing appreciation for the grant, Dr. Ford said that it will enable him to carry on a small research program in experimental nuclear physics. He said that the study will be worked in with advanced laboratory work in the college program.

Dr. Ford said:

"The aim of the proposed investigation will be two-fold: first, to develop a mass spectrometer which will give more nearly absolute results for the relative abundance of isotopes and second, to develop techniques for detecting small variations in the relative abundance of the naturally occurring isotopes."

$4,013.50 Pledged By Faculty, Students To Supplement Ford Foundation Grant

NNC faculty and students pledged $4,013.50 to be applied on the "Matching Fund" during the chapel hour on Friday, September 28.

Dr. John Riley who conducted the service explained that this fund was being raised to match the $84,000 granted to NNC by the Ford Foundation. This later fund is a 10-year endowment grant, the income from which is to be used to increase faculty salaries. The "Matching Fund" will be a capital donation fund by the friends of the college. These donations will be used for indebtedness reduction and/or capital improvements.

The response from the faculty and students was termed as "very good". Dr. Riley stated, "If the Ford Foundation is interested in NNC, should not we be just as interested?"

Morrison Parlor Gets "New Look"

During the last few months the parlor in Morrison Hall has taken on a "new" look that makes the girls very proud of it.

If you have visited the parlor lately you will notice how attractive the new furnishings have made it. The new furnishings include a wall to wall tweed carpet, four occasional chairs, two section davenports, and two brass planters.

The new turquoise sheer drapes have arrived and will be hung as soon as the walls are painted a malt brown. The money that was needed for the paint was contributed by the girls and Mrs. Volk of Morrison Hall.

Last Friday night at a dorm party, the girls made pillows and kemmed the old drapes which will be used in the office. A large oak table is being refinished and cut down to make a king-size coffee table for the corner sectional.

Nadine Seward, Marge Clay, Ruth Burkhardt, Violet John, and Phyllis Condon who are on the re-decorating committee would like to express their appreciation to the school, the girls, and Mrs. Riley, and Louis Roberts for making this project such a success.

Also, the girls will soon have a kitchenette in one corner of the recreation room. Several appliances have been donated which are appreciated very much. They are a tea maker, waffle iron, sandwich grill, and a combined sink, stove, and refrigerator. They were also glad to

Proposed Budget To Be Drawn Up

Clayton Martin, ASB treasurer, has announced that a tentative budget will be drawn up Wednesday, October 10, at the meeting of the student council.

This is to be an open meeting and each club is urged to have at least one representative present.

LEADERS ANNOUNCED AT CWB MEETING

Two hundred students attended the first organizational meeting of CWB in the college chapel recently.

Dee Freeborn, president, was in charge of the meeting.

After a short talk by Dr. D. Shelby Corlett, faculty sponsor, group leaders for the year were announced. These are: Tom Tracy, Dick Ramsey, Tom Nees and Jim Martin.

receive a china cup and saucer and twelve crystal plates.

As soon as the parlor and kitchenette are finished, open house will be arranged.

MUSIC, SPEECH EVENTS COMING

Society music and speech contests will be held Friday and Saturday evenings, October 19 and 20, in the chapel.

Preliminaries for the music events will be held Monday afternoon, October 15, from 2 to 4 in Dr. Hill's studio. Tryouts will be held for the following events: men's vocal ensembles, women's vocal ensembles, mixed vocal ensembles, men's vocal solos, and women's vocal solos. No contestants may participate in more than two events. Accompanists must be from the same society as the talent, but accompanying does not count as a contestant. Anyone having been in college more than ten semesters may not participate.

Judges for the preliminaries will be from the local music department but outside judges will be here for the contest.

Instrumental music contests will be held during second semester.

Thirty-Five Attend Officer's Retreat

Some 35 students and faculty advisers left the campus Friday, September 28, for McCall to take part in the annual student officers' retreat.

Opening session was a Fireside where Dr. Riley spoke to the students. Deb Laws, ASB president, was in charge.

Saturday included discussion periods on "Duties of Faculty Advisers," "Student Activities," and "Problems of Incoming Officers." Leading the discussion groups were Bill Jackson, ASB vice president, Mary Wing, ASB secretary, and Jim Ridgeway, Circle K president. Faculty consultants were Dean Thelma Culver, Thomas Luepp and Helen Wilson.

Dean Culver and Dean of Students Luepp spoke briefly in the closing session Saturday afternoon. The rest of the time was devoted to recreation.

Shadduck Speaks To Student Body

Miss Louise Shadduck, candidate for Congress from the First District, was guest speaker Tuesday at chapel service.

In her theme, "Men Who Had Understanding of Their Times," from the Book of First Chronicles, Miss Shadduck pointed out that in her opinion President Eisenhower had demonstrated many times that he has a "deep understanding of these times in which we live."

Miss Shadduck was introduced by Jim Martin, newly elected president of the NNC Young Republican Club. Miss Shadduck and her party arrived in an Eisenhower-Nixon bandwagon now touring Idaho. They were also welcomed by a 14-piece pep band.

CLOSED NIGHT WON BY ADP'S

The ADP's came through with flying colors Saturday at the annual Closed Night. They topped the second place SLA's by 7.6%. The OLY's took third place honors and the LSP's fourth.

The 105 ADP's gathered in the gym for their program. They had 68.6% present out of 153 eligible members.

The SLA's had 83 present from a possible 136. This gave them 61%.

Out of 152 possible the OLY's had a total of 91 present. This made their percentage 60.

Fourth place LSP's had 89 present from a possible 159. This gave them 56%.

FALL REVIVAL STARTS SUNDAY, OCTOBER 21

Sunday, October 21, marks the opening day for our annual Fall Revival. This year's evangelist is Rev. Ted Martin, who is well known and loved by almost everyone in the Northwest, and the whole United States.

Two heads that were once bent together thus as they plotted debate strategy are now turned in slightly opposite directions as Jim and Jim work at their tasks of leading the Young Republican and Young Democrats on the NNC campus.

The President Speaks . . .
 NOT TO THE STRONG

The pessimistic wise man of many centuries ago wrote (Ecclesiastes 9:11) "I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong . . . but time and chance happeneth to them all." The gospel songwriter gives a better statement in the words,

"Not to the strong is the battle,
 Nor to the swift is the race,
 But to the true and faithful
 Victory is promised through grace."

This points up one of the matters which concerns the college administration. I speak of the high percentage of "drop-outs" during the four years of college; our percentage is about average, but it is nevertheless, much too high. It is very likely that nearly fifty per cent of the freshman class will fail to graduate from N.N.C. There are many reasons which will be involved—financial reverses, sickness, home difficulties, military service, marriage, academic failure, lack of motivation, and many others.

This is both good and bad. On the good side of the ledger certain observations might be made: Even one year spent on the campus of N.N.C. could be very beneficial to a student; the college must maintain its academic standards and, even while offering some limited help to certain students, must discourage them from trying for a degree; a number of students seeking professional or other types of training must transfer from N.N.C.; etc., etc.

On the bad side of the ledger there is this observation: Granting all the justifiable reasons for failing to finish college there are, nevertheless, many students who drop out only because they lack the motivation to fight it through.

The strong, in the sense of talent or potential, may drop out because of laziness, cowardice, indifference to the challenge of self-improvement. It takes grit, resolution, "stick-to-it-iveness," sustained motivation, as well as a little intelligence, to secure a worthy college degree. It takes much more of both to go on to graduate work, research or a doctorate.

Here at N.N.C. we exert every effort to encourage young people to come to college, and then, after they matriculate, we do everything to encourage them, by a process of orientation, by democratic friendliness, by counselling and various types of inspiration. But when all of this is done, the fact remains that it is hard work to get a college degree. One has to work, study, save his money, fight homesickness, learn to get along with others, grit his teeth and go on when tempted to quit, and study to live by principle rather than by feelings.

Some of you students will not make it through the four years, or this year, or even this first semester. I hate to say it, but it is true. For some of you dropping out will be occasioned by good and sufficient reasons. For some of you it will be occasioned by fear, depression, laziness, carelessness, or lack of real desire to complete your college education—unless you here and now and repeatedly resolve, "I will not be a quitter. I will make it through."

Not to the strong? But it is to the strong, the strong in heart, that victory comes.

President Riley.

Let Your Conscience Be Your Guide

By TOM NEES

Everyone has at one time or another committed an act and almost immediately realized it was wrong. This realization came through the condemnation of his conscience. God meant that everyone's conscience should be a guide for his free will, a guide that would warn of danger and keep him from doing wrong. Can you imagine a guide following a group while they wander aimlessly, and then showing the group where they lost their way? In the same sense, if we are only affected by our consciences after an act has been committed, our consciences have been seared. May we all be able to say with Paul, "Herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men".

Foreign Missions Band Has Meeting

At the first meeting of the Foreign Missions Band, Mrs. Marjorie Carter, missionary from India, presented the service. There were approximately 30 persons who attended the meeting held last Thursday.

The officers are: Marie Johnson, secretary, Jan Cummings, program chairman; and Judy Kirschner, assistant program chairman.

The purpose of the organization is to create more interest in foreign missions and let those who are interested know what is happening on the fields. Anyone interested in foreign missions is urged to join this band.

Each year the FMB selects a special project to help a certain group. Last year they obtained supplies for a leprosy colony in Africa.

NEWS & VIEWS

By JIM HILLIARD

As far as this commentator is concerned, last week should be the very best of the year for it marked the organization of the Young Democrat and Young Republican clubs on our campus.

Congratulations are in order for Professor Leupp who did a very splendid job of hastily throwing together the Young Republican Club and drafting its officers. (The leader is a Canadian Liberal.)

From my little cubby-hole there doesn't seem to be quite as many Republicans on campus as might be suspected for I understand that most of the students who remained for the meeting in the dining hall had been led to understand that they would receive an extra dessert. (Very clever and tasty tactics.)

Meanwhile careful plans have been laid to form the Young Democrats Club by some of the most outstanding students on our campus. By the time this paper reaches its readers, we should have two very fine political clubs on our campus.

Also there is a rumor which has reached my perky little ears about the organization of a third party on the campus to be called the Independents. I understand they are strong supporters of "Joe Smith for President". Good luck to you, kids—I'm always in favor of a small party.

All kidding aside, I think we will have two very fine and active clubs on our campus this year. The leaders of each club are hoping that everyone will join one or the other. If you aren't sure which one you'd like to join, see me. I'll be either in Chapman Hall or at the Young Democrat meetings. See you next issue.

Incidentally—any and all letters addressed to this unbiased column will be posted in the Speech Hall.

Hither & Thither

"I AM A . . ."

Weaker, stronger, smooch, make-out, or possibly just a miserable fraud. I am afraid that Mr. Webster would do a mean mambo in his grave if he had to define some of our descriptive adjectives. So, let's try to give him the scoop on this latest jazz.

After all, when we get to college, we have to dream up some way, and it must be subtle, to edify ourselves and show up others as not quite so praiseworthy as ourselves. Then, on occasion that little bug of jealousy starts biting. In this case, we must think of some "smart" way to build up our own ego. The best way to do this, naturally, is to drag everyone else below us with a few choice expressions, arbitrarily set up by us. All these things, of course, cannot be done openly. So, we use a mild form of "name-calling", not unlike the lowest form of politics.

One of the chief aims of a college is the attainment of culture. Webster defines culture as; "refinement of taste". So, if we must find a way to belittle others, there should be a more cultured way.

Certainly each of us requires respect for that which is valuable and holy in our lives. Before we make an act or emotion an object of ridicule, it is only fair that we should ask, "am I dragging something which is valuable to someone else through the mud." With careful respect for others, and high ideals, we can enjoy a much improved campus.

Got A Red Or Runny Nose?
 If So, Hanky In Hand—Read This

By ANNA ROSE RIVES

Yes, now is the hour for us to bring a goodly supply of handkerchiefs and gather around to discuss the common cold. With the first frost we gave one final allergic sneeze and gladly welcomed the pollen-free, germ-laden autumn. Along with apples and yellow leaves the autumn season brings something which is both a boon and a bane to mankind—the common cold. This cold can vary from a satisfying set of sniffles to a full-flowering case of pneumonia.

Now I maintain that the cold is in most ways a boon! Oh, true, a red nose and a pair of runny eyes could not be counted as glamorous, but what a small price to pay for such a conversation piece! Now no one wants to hear about your allergies because chances are, they don't have any; but just give one good harsh cough and you're all set "conversation-wise" for the evening. Everyone has his own pet remedies for this ailment and loves to compare notes with other sufferers. From this humble beginning the conversation can branch out into anything from the latest medical discoveries, to the colors that go best with a red nose, or even what Socrates had to say about suffering.

For years medical science has been trying frantically to rid us of this valuable germ, but if that should ever come to pass I fear havoc would result; cough syrup companies would go out of business, the Kleenex business would be hard-hit and every third drug store would be filing bankruptcy papers; and worst of all, we would be stranded without a topic of conversation for half the year.

So, hail to you, dear friend, cold germ; may you have a busy winter and . . . excuse me, does anyone have a spare handkerchief? I seem to have picked up a bit of a cold!

LIVING IN SPIRIT

By RAY SPELL

A tie that binds man closely and securely is his deep sense that a great God exists who is caring and watching over him. This tie might be called a spiritual link.

Have you ever thought what it would be like if men might someday be able to live in the spirit, that is, living in a thought world where no word is spoken, where thoughts would be transferred by mental telepathy?

Would it be unreasonable to suggest that heaven will be like this? For me the idea seems to be closely connected with a perfect existence. These words illustrate how I think living in the spirit world would be.

What a close communion in spirit 'twould be, if a body we could not see: the spirit, the soul, the inner being, communicating thoughts and riches unseen. So honest and true this existence would be, none could deceive with outward expressions, none would want another's possessions.

Just a Reminder

In the easy, informal atmosphere of our dining hall, it is easy to forget some of our manner and the finer points of etiquette.

Here are just a few reminders: Boys, remember to pull out the girl's chair.

Girls, remember to seat yourselves from the left side of the chair—also remember to say thank you when a boy helps seat you.

Turning from dining hall manners to general etiquette:

Boys, remember to open doors for girls, car doors, and all types of doors.

Girls, give the guys a chance to open doors for you and remember to say thank you.

In the Coffee Shop, let's be more considerate of the waitresses. They will try to give you good service. Remember that there are about thirty other people who also want service. We should refrain from napkin throwing in the Coffee Shop.

'Bye for now. Maybe somebody else has some suggestions along the etiquette line. If so let someone on the Crusader staff know about it just as I did.

AT A STUDENT ALTAR

Presented in Chapel by E. N. C. President Edward S. Mann
 September 12, 1956

Father God . . . May the study lamp be my burning candle,
 The desk my altar.
 May these days as a student become a stewardship of myself.
 May I give myself to the vocation of scholarship,
 Becoming a careful workman for Thee.
 May college not become a mere preparation for life and a vocation,
 But life and vocation itself, meaningful and whole.
 Grant that I may see as sacrificial, my study,
 Not for my own glory, but to Thy greater glory.
 I would learn the essential things well,
 I would desire to be of real service to the world,
 To see fame with cool eyes,
 And failure without fear of reputation.
 Recreate me sensitive to the great problems of mankind,
 To know great minds and invoke great principles.
 Lead me to great tasks with the courage to put away childish things
 And be filled with great thoughts.
 May the awareness of debt to parents, friends, and society
 For the cost of my education
 Make a humble human of me.
 Encourage and refresh me when I come to think of my work as boresome,
 Drawn out and unproductive.
 Strengthen me, Father, as a faithful student to Thy work,
 To answer Thee,
 For Thou has called me into Thy service as a learner.

Amen.

Activities for Year

The A.W.S. council has met and formulated the year's activities. Starting out the year with a chapel service, scheduled for Monday, October 15, the council has planned a series of skits to show what the year has in store for all of its members.

Big-Little Sisters will be chosen and the announcement of the Big-Little Sister Tea will be presented. The date for this event has been set for October 17.

ALUM NOTES

From The Tinker Air Force Base Times comes this news of EARLENE TAPLEY, former Crusader editor and NNC graduate:

"Earlene Tapley, new executive secretary of the Tinker Awards committee arrived at this base July 23 and has been working with Don Killough and Dale Williams to familiarize herself with the operation. She will replace Killough who is taking a position as management analyst in charge of the Management Improvement program.

Miss Tapley has spent approximately nine years in Civil Service, all of them in personnel work. She entered the service upon high school graduation but resigned to attend college. After receiving a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration at Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, Idaho, she resumed government work as secretary to the Civilian Personnel officer and executive secretary of the Awards committee at Barksdale AFB. At the time of her transfer here she was personnel adviser and executive secretary to the Awards committee at Greenville AFB, Miss.

Speaking well for Miss Tapley's abilities is the fact that the Greenville Awards committee closed out its fiscal year with a 52.07 per cent suggestion participation—highest rating in the Flying Training Air Force and second highest in the entire Air Training Command."

Brunson, who is attending seminary, writes: "I have a nice little apartment just across the street from 'Old Main'—Ad. Bldg. at NNC. There is no place to park my trailer closer than five miles out and in this traffic! . . . NNC alumni need never be ashamed of their education . . . I'm thankful for what NNC did for me. It was there I learned to be me rather than a ditto. Greetings to everyone."

Word has been received of the birth of a daughter, Jan Elizabeth, to Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Johnson, Jr., formerly Boise valley residents, on October 3, in Redondo Beach, California.

Mrs. Johnson is the former Norma Wohlgamuth, daughter of Mrs. Doris Wohlgamuth of Nampa and Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Johnson of NNC.

The young Johnsons are now living in Redondo Beach where he is teaching in the public schools. They formerly lived in Nampa and in Boise where he taught for several years. GIRLS SOFTBALL UNDERWAY

By rolling up some high scores; having some of the largest turn-outs in recent years at each game; and portraying enthusiasm and good sportsmanship the fall intramural program for the girls has gotten off to a good start. With over half the season completed the ADP's stand undefeated. They have shown power in both the field and at the plate. Mary Waller and Martha Hopkins have shared the pitching duties for the leaders.

The LSP's are in second place with only one loss. They show a well balanced team with strength in all positions and also at bat. Muriel Parsons and Jackie Foster comprise the battery for the runner-ups.

The SLA's occupy third place with one win and two losses. Lucille Cotner and Minnie Humphrey have shared the duties on the mound with Lois Draper behind the plate. Having a little trouble in getting started the SLA's promise to be a difficult team to beat.

Having gotten off to a slow start the OLY's are beginning to find themselves as a team and will give all teams a good game. Myrna Dean is on the mound for the OLY's.

TROJANS SUBDUE SAINT TERESA

Last Friday afternoon CHS played host to the Saint Teresa eleven. The Trojans crossed the goal line six times and twice made the conversion successfully. The Saints managed to cross the goal line twice making the final score 38-12.

To open the game the Saints kicked off to the Trojans. The Finkbeiner men made a steady drive from their 35 year line to the 35 yard line of the Boise men. Stoner then passed to Thompson who went for paydirt. The extra point was scored on a pass from Stoner to the right half. The first quarter ended with the Nampans out front 7-0.

The second quarter was a series of end runs by the Trojans. Stoner made a 50-yard dash from his own 35 to the Saints 25. The next play was a touchdown pass from Stoner to the right half. An attempted pass by the Saints landed in the arms of College High who again went all the way. The half ended with the score being 19-0.

The third quarter revealed another 50-yard run by Stoner who went all the way to add another six points to the Trojan score.

The fourth quarter got underway with a pass from Manley for another six points making the total 31-0. After fighting back and forth the Saints found an open field for an 18-yard run for six points. They quickly followed with another making the tally 31-12. The Trojans then followed with the finishing touch of the game by adding another TD and conversion for an outcome of 38-12.

Playing a good game in the line were Jerry Vevig, Eldon Wilson, and Allan Lair.

Society Competition Gets Stiffer As Interest and Cooperation Is Aroused

By DAVE JACKSON
Now that everybody has found out which society he is in things are beginning to smooth out and roll right along. Already, there is a feeling of competition in the air. The games in the softball leagues have aroused the interest of the new members on the campus, as well as the old-timers. There has been a good showing of cooperation for each society.

How well you support your society, may depend on its standing at the end of the semester. Support it with participation points as well as cooperation. Get behind it in every activity.

Athletics may be only a part of society activities, but there are a lot of points distributed in this area. You get participation points for each player besides points for winning.

In individual sports, don't sign up unless you are sure you can play the game. If you can't you forfeit points to your opponent.

Participate in every activity possible and help your society win this semester.

Melba made a fourth quarter drive from the 50 for a TD. The Trojans turned in some good blocking and running to the Melba 35 where Harold Stoner took the ball on an end sweep for pay dirt.
