Booster's Club Funds Provide Scholarships

Mr. William H. (Bill) Anderson (left), Assistant to the President in charge of Development and Public Relations, and Mr. Dave Erickson (right), Field Secretary, examine membership blanks for the Booster's Club recently received from Tokyo, Japan, and Swaziland, South Africa. The college is seeking 100% cooperation in the effort to provide new scholarship funds for Trevecca Students.

Tuesday, January 5, the Executive Board ruled that all the funds received from the Booster's Club will go for Scholarships and Student Aid Funds. This announcement was made by Mr. William H. (Bill) Anderson of the Department of Development and Public Relations.

The Booster's Club was created to raise money for construction of a new physical education building and for the growing matching scholarship fund for students. The Executive Committee decided that funds for this building will be raised by other methods.

Mr. Anderson said this change could provide fifty thousand dollars in new scholarship funds for Trevecca students.

April 1, 1965, will mark the end of the first year of appeal for members of the Booster's Club. The goal is to have ten thousand members by that time. Recently the Department of Development and Public Relations sent literature to pastors and other alumni of the college seeking one hundred per-cent participation. "The response has been wonderful!" Mr. Anderson reported, "One-third of those contacted have joined the Booster's Club."

Mass mailings will begin shortly to twenty thousand people on the Zone. They will be asked to join the Booster's Club to aid students in getting a higher education in a Christian atmosphere. The student body will also be given an opportunity in the near future to join at a special rate.

Figures compiled by Mr. Anderson's office show that there are over 63,000 Nazarene church members and 125,000 Sunday school members in the Southeast Educational Zone. Of this number, 8,400 of them are members of the N.Y.P.S. Teen Fellowship. The college is trying to get its share of these future college students.

If every church member joined the Booster's Club, the college would have $315,000 in new scholarship money. $725,000 for this fund would be provided if every Sunday School member joined the club. Mr. Anderson said that this would put a scholarship within the reach of every Trevecca student.

The Booster's Club offers four bonuses to its members. These include:

- ★ A high fidelity recording with songs by the A Cappella Choir, Men's Glee Club, Treble-Tone Choir, and Trevadores Quartet.
- ★ A Booster decal to be used on automobiles.
- ★ A one year's subscription to the Trev-Echoes, the official student publication.
- ★ A one year's subscription to the official school paper, The Messenger.

"The membership fee a year is $5.00 per person," Mr. Anderson reports. Anyone who would like to have more information about the Booster's Club may write to:

STUDENTS GAIN DORM AUTHORITY

Last quarter the Student Life Committee approved the proposed College Resident Association. The purpose of this new governing body is to develop more student responsibility for dormitory life, to increase students' concepts of the democratic processes, and to enlarge their awareness of the implications of group living.

Under the plan, every dormitory will elect a council that will handle plans for special activities for the social life of its members in the particular residence halls, will help plan the Saturday night dormitory prayer meetings, and may consider and act in conjunction with the Head Resident on disciplinary cases. Any type of breach of rules, except those which could result in expulsion from college, may be dealt with by the council after it has been referred to them by the head resident.

According to the constitution of the College Resident Association, the dormitory council will be composed of two students elected from each floor of the respective residences, except Smith Hall in which case two persons will be elected to serve on the council, with the head resident in charge of the dormitory. Each council member must maintain a 1.0 average. If a member of the council changes floors or dorms, his membership in the council also ceases. The councils shall meet once a month.

The officers of the council include a chairman (a senior), and a secretary-treasurer. The Head Resident is ex officio a member of the council. The chairman shall preside at all of the meetings of the council of his or her respective residence. The chairmen of all of the councils of the residences shall serve on the executive committee of the Association with the Dean of Student Life and the Vice-president of the Student Council to plan all-campus social activities. The Secretary-Treasurer shall keep minutes of all Residence Hall Council meetings, collect dues, and preside when the chairman cannot attend.

There is an Association Executive Committee over the Dorm Councils composed of the officers of the Men's Residence Councils and the Women's Residence Councils. The head residents and Dean of Student Life are members ex officio. The duties of this committee shall be: to plan for improved campus housing and student life, to plan social and recreational events which include all campus students from the various residences, to relay to the Administration student desires about social regulations, housing, and other matters relating to student welfare, and to deal with disciplinary cases referred to it by any council, the Social Life Committee, or Dean of Student Life.

The aim of this new system is to give every dorm student more of a voice in how his life will be governed. It is also hoped that the students will receive a clearer conception of the problems and difficulties that exist in setting the rules and regulations of the social life of a Christian college.

The annual Winter Quarter Revival, co-sponsored by Trevecca Nazarene College and the College Hill Church, will begin this Sunday morning, January 24, 1965, at the College Hill Church of the Nazarene, T. E. Jones, pastor. Rev. John Hancock, General NYPS President and pastor of Dunbar, West Virginia First Church will be the evangelist. Mr. Hancock will be speaking daily in chapel, Monday-Friday, and nightly at the College Church.

The revival has been preceded by special dorm prayer meetings, noon-day prayer meetings, and special chapel services. The presiding officers of the different religious groups on campus have lead in prayer during this week's chapel services.

Mr. Hancock's election to the post of General NYPS President at the General NYPS Convention in Portland last June marks his second term on the Council. He served as the Trevecca Zone Representative on the 1960-64 General NYPS Council. He is 36 years old.

Mr. Hancock's first contact with the Church of the Nazarene as an unsaved teen-ager was through the NYPS and a Nazarene girl who invited him to sing in the youth choir. He found the Lord as Savior and Sanctifier in a revival meeting.

In 1953, while working as a reporter on a Charleston, West Virginia, daily newspaper, God's call was impressed upon him to resign his job and enter the ministry. An A.B. in journalism from the West Virginia Institute of Technology helped qualify him as a reporter. "But none of these experiences was as important as my surrender to God's will," he states.

Mr. Hancock has quite a background of activities. In high school (Montgomery High, Montgomery, West Virginia) he played football, basketball, baseball, and went out for track. Even with this schedule he was voted valedictorian of the graduating class.

The churches he has served in West Virginia include Handley (1953-57) and Huntington Central (1957-62). He is now pastoring Dunbar First Church.

As a father and husband, Mr. Hancock is in his most comfortable role. He and his wife, Venita, have four children.

Construction of the second floor has begun on Bud Robinson Hall, formerly called the Cafeteria. This floor of the new facility will serve as a dormitory.

Dr. Wise, Dean of Student Life, has announced that it has not been officially decided whether it will be a boys' or a girls' dorm. The building will be so constructed as to allow it to be used by either group, depending upon which group has the greater need. The room rent has not been set, but it will be between $45 and $70, Dr. Wise said.

The new hall was named after "Uncle Bud" Robinson, a native of Tennessee and outstanding Nazarene of this century.

BOARD DISCUSSES EXPANSION PLANS

The Executive Committee of the College Board of Trustees met Tuesday, January 5, in a planning session preliminary to a special called meeting of the entire Board to be held on Wednesday, January 27.

Topics for discussion and subjects of recommendation to the Board included—

- ★ A new men's dormitory to be constructed this spring and summer, to be ready for occupancy this Fall;
- ★ Two new federally financed dormitories of superior quality, to be ready by the Fall of 1966;
- ★ A large multipurpose building to serve for auditorium, chapel, and physical-education purposes;
- ★ A new academic-classroom building to better accommodate the expanding liberal arts curriculum of the College;

- ★ New faculty members to be added in the next two years.

With the completion of Bud Robinson Hall now under construction and the erection of the new men's residence hall for September occupancy this year, campus housing capacity will be increased to approximately 450, or seventy per cent of College enrollment.

Members of the Executive Committee present for the committee meeting were Dr. John L. Knight, Chairman, Orlando, Fla.; Dr. Lloyd B. Bryon, Vice Chairman, Charlotte, N.C.; Rev. Bruce Hall, Secretary, Atlanta, Ga.; E. H. (Bob) Steenbergen, Ashland, Ky.; Ralph W. Marlowe, Albertville, Ala.; Rev. Dallas Baggett, Louisville, Ky., and Dr. Otto Stucki, Columbia, S.C.

Don't Flake Out

FLAKING OUT is one of the most commonly used slang terms among today's younger set. On the Trevecca campus, this term has evolved to the meaning of "casting aside responsibility for leisure." One who FLAKES OUT is termed a FLAKER. To be called a FLAKER is, to say the least, uncomplimentary.

The term FLAKE OUT is of such general sense that it can be applied to almost every aspect of our college lives. We can FLAKE OUT either academically, spiritually, socially, or physically, or any combination of these four areas.

The primary cause for which students FLAKE OUT can be traced merely to the failure of accepting responsibility. When we are assigned or entrusted with responsibilities and fail to comply with them, we increase the present populace of FLAKERS in existence.

Too often the excuse—"I didn't have time!"—is offered to cover up for FLAKING OUT. Usually, it can be found that the student offering the excuse had wasted enough time to have completed the task.

Another excuse used frequently is—"I had too much to do!" One of the goals of our college is to develop the capacity to discern the essentials and then to consider these essentials as our primary values. Or in more simple terms, we should learn to place first things first.

A third excuse states—"Well, I need some leisure time!" This statement, of course, is true, but we must be careful of the word "some." We must not allow "some" to become over-indulgence.

FLAKING OUT means failure to turn in term papers on time, failure to show up for play practice or choir practice, skipping class to sleep or go out for coffee, or giving up because the going gets rough.

The pull between leisure and responsibility is a constant 'tug-of-war.' Leisure constantly tugs at the student, pulling him toward an easier way of life. Only by the aid of his sense of responsibility can the student overcome the temptation of FLAKING OUT.

The student who FLAKES OUT finds he loses the respect of his fellow classmates. He is designated a "goof-off" and an irresponsible person! He is no longer given responsibility because he is not dependable.

On the other hand, the responsible person wins the respect and confidence of his classmates and friends. He develops character traits that will lead to a successful and happy life.

All of us can become victorious in our personal 'tug-of-war' by exercising the determination that builds responsibility. Become a member of the winning side.

DON'T FLAKE OUT!

Education "Plus"

Both the opportunities and demands for education are greater today than ever before. Specialized training in almost every area of life is becoming increasingly more necessary. But education alone is not enough. Like science, education may bless or blast depending on the ends to which it is put. As someone has observed, "An ignorant thief may steal the tools of a company, but an educated thief will steal the company." If misdirected, education may only increase the capacity for evil. On the other hand, if it is directed toward the proper goal, education can be a great blessing to mankind.

Christian colleges are dedicated to doing as much as other colleges educationally—and more. The purpose of Trevecca Nazarene College is to provide each student with a well-balanced education, to give opportunity to grow as Jesus grew—"in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man" (Luke 2:52). Here we see the normal development of the total person—intellectual, physical, spiritual, and social.

A Christian education is "education plus" in the development of the mind. Truth is basically One, and what is true in one area will not contradict truth in another area. This is the basis for our liberal arts emphasis with courses offered in languages, literature, music, speech, philosophy, science, mathematics, economics, education, psychology, sociology, and history. There is no real conflict between faith and reason, between the head and the heart. Both are a part of the image of God in man and God expects us to use both for His glory. As John Wesley put it, "unite the pair so long disjoined; knowledge and vital piety, learning and holiness, truth and love." One may let his mind soar to great heights if his roots are firmly embedded in a deep personal faith.

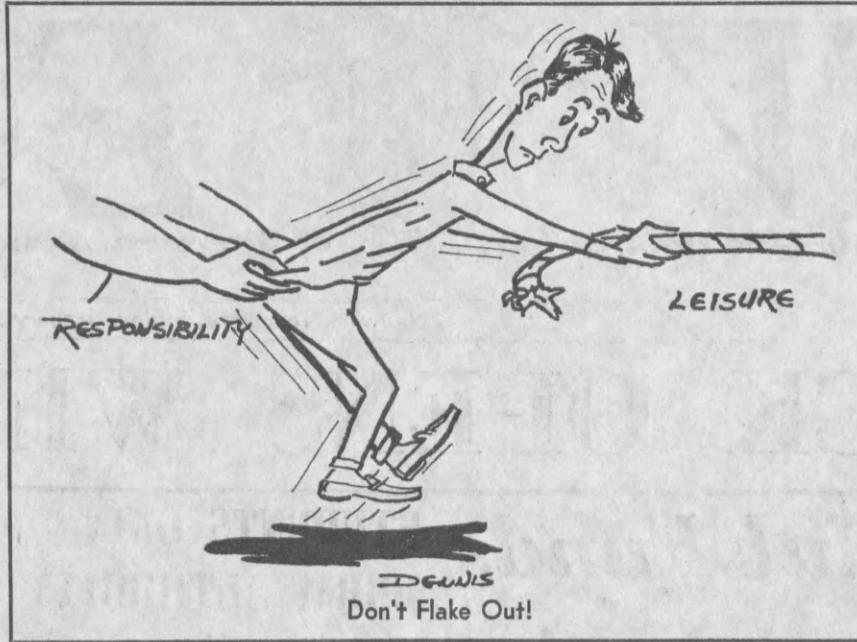

The plus factor of a Christian education is also seen in the development of the physical man. Athletics and the overall physical education program is an integral part of the total educational effort, and must contribute toward the fulfillment of Trevecca's objectives as a Christian college. The athlete who plays at Trevecca must demonstrate excellence in Christian character and conduct, seriousness of purpose, academic achievement, and skill in the sport in which he participates.

The supreme factor in Christian education is the spiritual life and development of each student. To achieve excellence in other areas and fail here is to ultimately fail as a Christian college. Christ must be first in every aspect of our life. This is the basis for required chapel services, prayer at the beginning of each class, frequent revivals, required courses in religion, as well as the many opportunities for Christian service. In the words of the great Apostle, "For me to live is Christ" (Philip. 1:21).

Finally, there is the plus factor in social development at a Christian college. Learning how to get along with others, how to be at ease in a group, Christian courtship, and factors involved in the establishment of a Christian home are all a part of our training. As one close observer saw it, "A Christian college is like a shoe factory: it builds souls, ships heels, and sends them out in pairs!"

Yes, the plus factors of a Christian education are patterned after the example of Jesus who grew mentally, physically, spiritually, and socially. Christian education is education plus—knowledge plus wisdom, facts plus faith, association plus fellowship, vocation plus mission, doctrine plus experience, and religion plus passion. As a Christian college, Trevecca is committed to doing as much educationally as other colleges—and more!

What is True Spirituality?

In the heart of every true man of God, we find one main desire. This is not a desire for fame or wealth, but a deep desire to be spiritual. All of us want this to be a reality in our lives and it can be, by the grace of God. I think, however, that many of us fail to realize what real spirituality is. I cannot help but feel that many times we limit our concept of spirituality to the experience of someone else. It is not my intention to "throw off" on the experiences of others, but we must never let their lives become the criterion lives of God's saints in order to profit by them, but we must never let their lives become the criterion of our experiences. The Lord is saying to us in His Word, "As I was . . . So will I be." By this he shows us that we can have the same grace and help that the saints have had down through the ages. God wants us to get our eyes off people and the things of this world and get a vision of Him. He has made us individuals and we must be led by Him as individuals. We must have a personal experience of His grace in our hearts. His plan for our lives, if we follow it with eyes fixed on Him, will lead us into that spiritual state of happiness that will satisfy our deepest desire. Spirituality is not a gift, it is a process. Sometimes it is a hard process; many times it is lonely, but the Lord has promised that "In quietness and confidence shall be (our) strength."

If we continue to go down into the depths of God's love we cannot help but rise in the splendor of His glory. Spirituality to you may be one thing: to me another; but I firmly believe that no one can be spiritual until he realizes that the only lasting values in life are wrapped up in those things that are eternal. This realization will become ours as we humbly yield ourselves to the whole will of God.

Today in America there are about twenty-seven million young people. Out of that great group we are privileged to attend Trevecca, a Christian college. Why? I believe it is because God wants to use us in some way to help many others. We can only do this as we accept the challenge to be spiritual leaders in our day.

—CLAUDE NICHOLAS

Has a new student ever spoken to you and made an effort to get acquainted only to have you rush off with the same crowd of friends you already know and like?

We have an obligation, not just as Nazarenes, but as Christians. We are exhorted many times in the scriptures to extend kindness to our fellowman. Ephesians 4:32 says, "And be ye kind one to another . . ." Kindness is the most inexpensive thing we can give, so can we not give it abundantly?

I'm afraid that many of us take for granted our acquaintance with others and forget that strangers or new students need our smile and kind word. Ralph Bricker has said it this way:

"Hello" only lasts for a minute, It's a short, brisk, queer little word, But, say! there's a lot of cheer in it; It's like the first chirp of a bird In spring, when the hilltops are greening,

Right after the cold and the snow, I think when it comes to a real meaning,

There isn't a word like 'Hello!'"

Why not try today to give a smile and friendly greeting to someone you never gave it to before?

—WINONA HUMSTON

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Or may I say "Dear Readers"? Have you ever attended all alone a Church of the Nazarene in a strange town? When you arrive the rush is on between Sunday School and morning worship, and many strange faces are quickly making their way to the sanctuary and a customary pew. Several faces meet your glance, a few smile, some look at you questioningly, but all seem to expect you to find your own way. By carefully watching the direction in which most of the people are going, you make your way to a pew and sit down, wondering if you're really welcome or not.

Has this ever happened to you? I certainly hope not—and you say, "Never in a Church of the Nazarene!" Nazarenes have traditionally been known for their warm spirit of friendliness to others and especially to new people or strangers.

Now—my question is this—Have you ever seen a stranger on Trevecca campus wandering almost as one in darkness trying to find his way?

At the beginning of a new quarter have you spied a new student with a desperate look on his face trying to get to the right classroom on time? Or have you noticed day after day a new student who attends classes regularly, but seems to have no close friends since he (or she) lives off campus and has no opportunity for dormitory friendships?

BOOK REVIEW FOUR DAYS

Four Days, The Historical Record of the Death of President Kennedy compiled by the United Press International and the Editors of American Heritage Magazine.

This book is mainly a pictorial record, with the text in the form of a sort of running commentary on the photographs. Many of the photographs are of poor quality, which could not be helped and is perhaps not to be regretted; it is not a pleasant thing to see a man die even in a sort of second hand way through photography.

To me, it seems that the most valuable part of the book is in the last few pages, where we are given a selection of official documents, public statements, and private messages relating to President Kennedy's death and funeral.

Those who read the papers, and listened to and watched the events unfold only a little over a year ago will find little in this book they did not already know. Perhaps its greatest value will be to the next generation, which we hope will not know at first-hand what such a tragic event is like.

CONTRIBUTIONS AID LIBRARY FACILITIES

Mrs. Lila Thrasher Mackey, head librarian, announced last Monday, January 18, 1965, that the Mackey Library was the recent recipient of a $450 American Library Association grant from the Division of Colleges and Research Libraries.

The grants are given annually to different colleges that present a specific need, and are to go towards the elimination of these needs. 162 grants were given to different colleges. Over 300 colleges applied this year.

The Mackey Library also recently received a copy of the 1908 Manual of the Church of the Nazarene. This gift was from the Rev. Ramond C. Arthur Thrasher, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene in New Albany, Indiana. Rev. Thrasher is the father of our student body president, Miss Jeanne Thrasher.

Mrs. Mackey stated that anyone wishing to donate an old Manual or other items of historical nature should contact her in care of the college.

Musical Groups Invade Florida

On January 2, after a somewhat shortened Christmas break, five sleepy-eyed quartet members and Mr. Anderson set out on a trip to explore the upperhalf of Florida. After a long day's drive and a missed turn on the Jacksonville Expressway that took us to the other side of town, we arrived at the church just in time to dress and start the service ten minutes late. The service was great as the Spirit of God was felt. Mr. Erickson gave his "Isn't That Wonderful?" Booster Club talk. The trio sang, and the quartet sang and our 1965 Florida tour was under way.

We were up early Sunday morning and drove to Tallahassee where our service was visited with the presence of God. Our night service was in the small town of Archer. Although the church was small, it was here we met the most interesting person with whom we came in contact on the tour. He had a long grey beard and a foot and a half pony-tail. He went by the name of "Santa Claus" or "The Prophet." He and his wife lived on a 3,000 acre pecan grove. As we left he said that he had made a covenant with God to pray for Trevecca every day for twelve months. Meeting people like this is what makes a tour worthwhile.

Monday was spent mostly on the campus of the University of Florida. Tuesday was a traveling day as were most of the days during the week. On Thursday, our leader was detained and couldn't get to service until about 7:30. He had Carl Taylor's suit with him. We waited until about 7:35, and the service was supposed to start at 7:00. With all the pomp of a parade, we marched up to the platform, four of us dressed in black suits, red vests, and black ties, and one in green pants and a red pin-striped shirt. But the people didn't seem to mind. After about two songs, Mr. Anderson arrived and everything was normal again.

The tour closed on Sunday, January 10, and we traveled all night to get back to the school we love and represent—Trevecca Nazarene College.

—Jim Hendershot

There is nothing like shortening your Christmas vacation to take a trip to Florida for eight days. Our first service was a combined service with the Trevedores in Jacksonville, Florida. Almost every day we met with the quartet to discuss our past services and the ones to come. We also visited many cities, the University of Florida, and that favorite scenic spot of William Anderson's, Capt. Good-Sword's Island.

Have you ever ridden all day in a VW bus? Elmo says "You girls take the bus and leave the driving to me!" We did—we had faith—and we lived. But, oh, what a relief when we finally saw that new station wagon!

We met many relatives of T.N.C. students. Hawkins even met a nice German Shepherd. The people in Florida gave us a warm, friendly reception, and we enjoyed visiting in their churches, in their homes, and being in their company. We feel that God's presence and guiding hand were on us on our tour, and we hope that our little part will help in being profitable for Christ as well as T.N.C.

TEN RULES FOR LIVING

1. Keep skids on your tongue. Always say less than you think.
2. Make promises sparingly and keep them faithfully no matter what it costs you.
3. Never let an opportunity pass to say a kind and encouraging thing to or about somebody. Praise good work regardless of who did it.
4. Be interested in others—interested in their pursuits, their welfare, their homes, and their families. Make merry with those who rejoice, and mourn with those who weep. Let everyone you meet, however humble, feel that you regard him as a person of importance.
5. Be cheerful, keep the corners of your mouth turned up. Hide your pains, worries, and disappointments under a pleasant smile.
6. Preserve an open mind on all debatable questions. Discuss but don't argue. It is the mark of a superior mind to disagree and yet be friendly.
7. Let your virtues, if you have any, speak for themselves and refuse to talk of another's vices. Discourage gossip. Make it a rule to say nothing of another unless it is something good.
8. Be careful of others' feelings. Wit and humor at the expense of another are rarely worth the effort and may hurt where least expected.
9. Pay no attention to ill-natured remarks about you; simply live so that nobody will believe them.
10. Don't be anxious about getting your just dues. Do your work, be patient, keep your disposition sweet, forget self, and you will be respected and rewarded.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS VISIT MEHARRY HOSPITAL SHUT-INS

Our C.W.A. work with the colored people at Meharry Hospital was started about five years ago. Since that time, much has been accomplished for Christ.

Presently, there are two divisions of the work. The children's division meets on Saturday afternoon. Becky Greathouse and Eugenia Cloud head this department. They conduct a service much like our Sunday School classes.

Barney Baggott, David Stucki, Lucy Williams, and Mary Blume share the responsibilities of the adult department. Each Sunday afternoon, these and others go to Meharry for bedside visitation which consists of Bible reading, prayer, and brief conversations.

The main purpose of this and other

C.W.A. activities is to win souls to Christ and to cheer those who may be discouraged. Sometimes, however, the workers leave their areas of service feeling better, not only for witnessing, but for the witness of a patient.

This past Sunday, our workers were encouraged by the testimony of Mrs. Annetta Wells, fifty-nine years of age. She has been a Christian since 1918. She gave her testimony: "The Lord helps me a lot. The Lord is my Shepherd. He is all to me. My pains are great sometimes but He helps me."

She has been in the hospital for at least two months. Our workers cannot be there every day, but let us pray that the influence of Mrs. Wells and other Christians may continue to radiate.

COMING EVENTS

College Hill Holds Branch Sunday School

"The words of Jesus ring loud and clear to me, as he spoke to the disciples, 'Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.' (St. Mark 8:34)

"After being asked by Rev. Jones and Dr. Homer Adams, I did not feel I could do it. I have found in the Christian's life that once you are in a certain work there comes that assurance that God will be with you. 'For whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it.' (St. Mark 8:35) This work I enjoy but there still lies ahead much work to be done."

These are the words of Mr. Doug Askew, Trevecca Staff member, who is the assistant Sunday School superintendent of College Hill Church of the Nazarene. Askew is referring to the work he is doing in the branch Sunday School of College Hill Church.

About two years ago, Mrs. Cathy Irwin started an afternoon Sunday School in the yard of her home. When cool weather arrived, the group moved inside the home. Mrs. Irwin was forced to give up the work because of sickness.

In the summer of 1963, Mrs. Bradshaw became interested in this project and wanted to start a church. She talked with Ed Irwin, and they were able to obtain use of the building where the present Sunday School is held. This location is on Wharf Avenue.

Mrs. Bradshaw and Ed Irwin began a Saturday afternoon school for children, and a Sunday service for adults. Other workers, such as Mrs. Edna Farrish and Mrs. Rose Pickard began helping.

Later, Ed Irwin discussed plans about furthering plans for the project with Rev. T. E. Jones, College Hill pastor. Finally, College Hill Church of the Nazarene took charge of the Sunday School. Rev. Jones and Dr. Adams, the superintendent of College Hill Sunday School, assigned Doug Askew to the work.

Askew says such work is challenging and that there are great rewards from doing such work.

This is only one phase of Christian work available for Christians to further their work for Christ.

Stuco Reports

Greetings from Stuco! Hope you're ready to help us make 1965 the best year Trevecca has known. We feel that clubs and classes are cooperating very well in our efforts toward QUALITY programs, banquets, parties, projects, etc. The Executive Committee of the Student Council and the Administrative Council of the college joined forces to arrive at what we feel is a most satisfactory and fair method of judging club and class activities on the basis of QUALITY. However, to receive recognition for their accomplishments, each class and club must submit a report of their activities at the appointed time! (Remember this, club and class presidents).

More club news—assigned meeting days. The Organizations Committee has met and designated the following days for club meetings: 1st Tuesday of each month—Music and Science Clubs; 2nd Tuesday—S.E.A., Speech and Math Clubs; 3rd Tuesday, T.A.A.; 4th Tuesday—Clio Society, Kappa Sigma Phi, Honor Society, T.M.F. Please use the time assigned to your club unless a special meeting is absolutely necessary.

It is almost time for another Student Leadership Conference. The exact date has not yet been decided, but will definitely be early in February. We plan to "rehash" some of the ideas presented at last quarter's conference as well as current issues of interest.

The election of major Stuco offices has been set for March 3rd. Petitions are due February 19, candidates will be announced February 24th. Give serious thought to this matter of choosing your leaders, and plan NOW to exercise your right to VOTE!

We are looking forward to coming events. John T. Benson lectures, the Valentine Banquet, Twirp Week, and the Missionary Convention are all packed into the Winter Quarter, while Spring Quarter brings the Stuco Lecture series with Mr. Maurice Griggs, and the Spring Revival also sponsored by the Student Council. All of these activities give YOU the opportunity (and responsibility) to participate in the affairs of YOUR college. Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors—we challenge you to respond, and "Come alive in '65."

THE TREBLE-TONE CHOIR

The Treble-Tone Choir welcomes its new members! Since the beginning of this quarter, seven new members have come into the choir. However, four of these girls are veterans. Cathy Chilton, an alto comes back as a 4-year member. We have several girls who are 2-year members—Mary Stanistreet, Janie Hersman, and Pam Holt—all are second sopranos. And then, of course, we welcome our freshmen—Ellen Phillips and Donna Morgan, first soprano; and Shirley Givans, second soprano. To make this welcome official, the Treble Tones are planning a supper social. Here the old members will present the highlights of the spring tour.

Coming up Sunday, January 24, the Treble-Tone choir will sing in the main worship service at First Church, making their third appearance of the year.

The 34 members of the choir are looking forward to the annual spring tour, which includes major cities throughout the state of Florida with services also in Georgia and South Carolina. Dr. and Mrs. Greathouse will accompany the choir.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Winter quarter finds several new faces (and voices!) in the A Cappella Choir. Two members of last year's choir, Jan Osborne and Larry Knight, joined us along with four new members: Sharon Hall, sophomore; and Greg Rickey, Sherian Cooper, and Paula Behr, freshmen. The latter is a new winter quarter student from Florida.

We are happy to welcome these new members and anticipate the contributions they will make to the choir.

Karen Dean was elected treasurer of the choir. Does that announcement remind you choir members of anything? (For instance, paying your dues!!!)

The biggest event for A Cappella in the near future is the Trevecca Day services at First Church, Sunday, January 24. The three school choirs will sing in these services, the purpose of which is to raise $2500 in scholarships for T.N.C.

And, of course, we're looking forward to spring vacation and choir tour; however, the weeks ahead contain many things for us including practice, practice!

KAPPA SIGMA PHI

In carrying out one of its purposes, that of developing an increased interest in the literary arts, Kappa Sigma Phi is endorsing a "Book of the Month" plan this quarter. A particular book will be chosen each month to be reviewed by the members and then discussed in the society meetings.

As a project, the society has chosen the redecoration of the Fine Arts Auditorium.

Also this quarter, the society will sponsor a sale of T.N.C. "sleepin' sacs" (night shirts).

TMF

As a progressive group the Trevecca Missionary Fellowship has accepted a real challenge—the forthcoming missionary convention. Two successful conventions now past, with their spiritual fervor and great missionary interest, give us anticipation for the 1965 convention to be held March 3-5.

A very interesting character has come to introduce our "South American Theme" for this year. At first he felt we must be a prosperous organization, since he knew there were $100 in personal pledges given during the past two conventions. He has since discovered that these pledges were in many cases sacrificial, and represent a genuine interest in world evangelism. Therefore "Pepe" has agreed to stay with us this year, and to use his insight to keep you informed behind-the-scenes. "Pepe" will have his picture and comments in coming issues of Trev-Echoes.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Men's Glee Club has not made its debut, but they plan to make up for their silence this quarter. Arrangements have been made for the Glee Club to make six local appearances for Sunday concerts and also for the group to sing in chapel.

It is hard sacrificing that noon meal, but these men, as Mr. Van Hook states it, "thoroughly enjoy singing". But the self-denial is for a purpose other than just singing. The men are taking their first long tour this spring, covering parts of Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and a one-stop jump to Florida. Rev. Dave Erickson will travel with the Glee Club.

PERRYS LEAVE AS MISSIONARIES Thirty-Three On Dean's List

Joyce and Robert Perry left on January 1, 1965 for South Africa as missionaries; their eventual goal is to get into Portuguese, East Africa. They had some counseling with Rev. Armond Doll when he was here. The time of their arrival in Portuguese East Africa is not certain. For the first two years they will be working in Johannesburg, and Mr. Perry will be working with the men in the gold mines. Mr. and Mrs. Perry will also be studying the Shangan and Afrikaans' language.

Mr. Perry graduated from Trevecca in 1958 with a major in History, and has completed his work toward his Master's Degree except for one course. He has served as pastor on the Alabama district and also principal of the Sand Mountain Christian Day School, Albertville, Alabama.

Birmingham First Church gave the Perrys' a grand "farewell". There was a watch-night service with over 100 people attending. At midnight the crowd went to the airport to see the Perrys off at 1:15. From Alabama the couple flew to New York and remained there until January 4. Leaving New York on the Queen Mary on January 4, they reached England on January 10. On January 14, they left England and are expected to arrive in Cape Town on January 23.

Each quarter at Trevecca we have a group of students who excel in scholastic excellence. These students earn a minimum of 40 quality points for that particular quarter's work. The names of these individuals are placed on a list known as the Honor Roll.

The following names appear on the Fall Quarter's list:

Undefeated Beta Five Takes Lead In Basketball Race

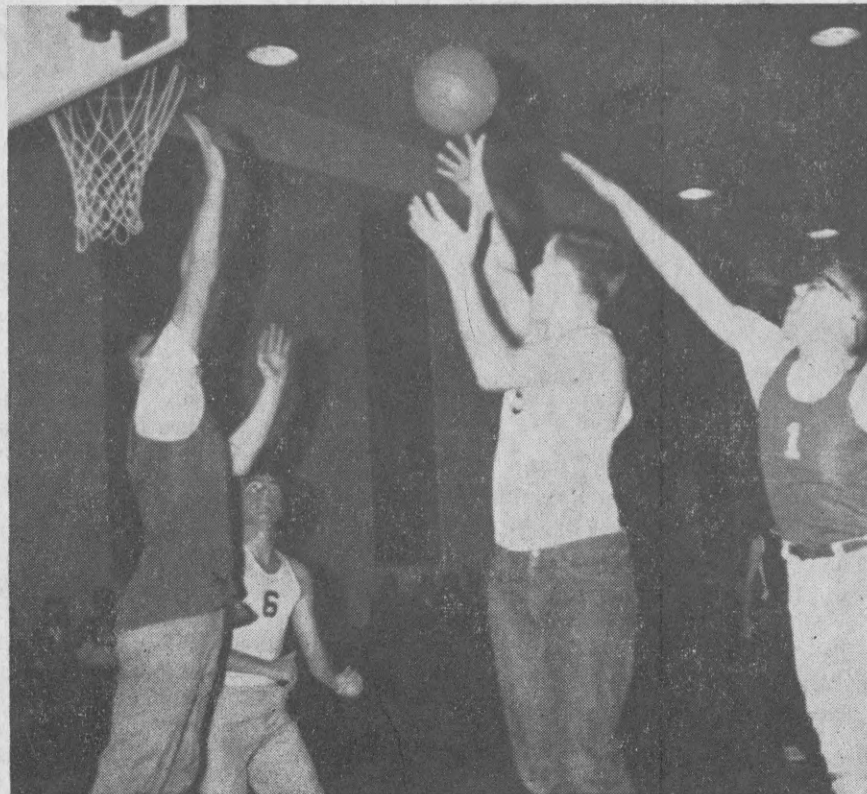

CLOSE RACE SEEN IN GIRL'S ACTION

DELTA 83—ALPHA 71

Jim Hendershot tossed in 25 points and four other Deltas scored in double figures as the high scoring Deltas brought their record to 1-1 by defeating the Alphas 83-71. The loss left the Alpha five in the cellar.

The Deltas sport a wide open offense that features the outside shooting of Forman and Cline, and rugged defensive play of Hendershot, Stark, and Greathouse on the boards. The absence of Greathouse was felt in this game, but freshman forward Stark filled in by scoring 15 points and now is pushing for a starting job.

Captain Mike Sexton led the out-classed Alphas with 20 points, followed by guards Moore (16) and Powell (15). The inexperienced Alphas are hoping to play the role of spoiler this year. Four of their five starters are freshmen and you can look for them to cause trouble in the future.

Alpha guard Ray Moore tries a one hander against Deltas as Jim Hendershot and Jan Forman attempt to prevent the two-pointer.

BETA 74—ALPHA 56

Led by Greg Rickey's 21 points, the Betas trampled over the Alphas for their second straight triumph in as many games. Faced with a tough 2-1-2 zone defense, the Alpha back-court men were forced to use the big pivot man for most of their scoring. Everett Hanner, playing his first game as an Alpha, netted 21 points in his effort. At half time, the score stood 31-23 in favor of the Betas, but Alpha George Whitten was the only man who could see the basket. Four Betas ended in double figures in their 74-56 win.

DELTA 88—ALPHA 59

In perhaps the hardest played game this year, the strong Deltas downed the hapless Alphas 88-59. The packed house at First Church Gym saw the officials call an astounding total of 54 personal fouls—29 on the Alphas and 25 on the Deltas. No fewer than five players fouled out of the conflict.

The triumphant Deltas were led by co-captain Jan Forman (22) and Frosh Mark Greathouse (20). Hendershot, Stark, and Cline followed with 17, 14, and 11 respectively. The Alphas were led by Hanner (15). Moore and Powell had 10 each for the losers.

Again it looks like the Betas are the team to beat, and the Deltas and Alphas are doing their best to do just that. This is already the best basketball season. Come on out and enjoy an evening of outstanding sports activity.

BETA 71—DELTA 59

Employing a semi-press and putting on a flashy offensive show, the still unbeaten Betas came from behind and defeated a hot Delta team 71-59.

The first half was all Delta. They went ahead on a foul shot by Greathouse and lead until the Betas finally pulled even at 49-49 with about 6:00 left in the game. Cline sparked the Delta first half splurge with 14 points, as the Deltas led at intermission 34-23. Baysinger kept the Betas in the game with 8 points in the first half.

The second half changed the situation as the Betas began their long up-hill battle. Manning suddenly went on a streak; Baysinger threw in 8 more points, and Rickey hit 6 free throws and 3 field goals in the come-from-behind effort. In that half, the Betas outscored the Deltas 48-25. At the end of the game, Rickey was the Beta's leading scorer with 19.

DELTA 17—BETA 16

The Deltas won their first game of the young season as they slipped by the Betas 17-16. The game was close all the way. The Deltas won the game on a free throw by Priscilla Swisshelm. The loss was the second for the Betas.

The Beta girls were ahead by as much as six points, but the Deltas used some clutch shooting to come up with the win. Sandra Williams and Priscilla Swisshelm were outstanding in the win. Williams scored 8 points and Swisshelm scored 5. Judy Drake and Janet Walls added 2 apiece for the winners.

The Betas were led by Janet Wheaton, Joyce Fulenwider, and Zana Parsons. Wheaton scored 8 points, and Parsons and Fulenwider scored 4 points apiece.

This close game could be an indication that these two teams can give the Alpha girls a close game and possibly come out with a win. This should be an interesting season for girls' basketball.

ALPHAS 27—BETAS 10

The defending champion Alpha girls displayed why they are champs as they swept past the Beta girls 27 to 10. This was the first game of the season for the girls. The Alphas established themselves as the team to beat this year.

The Alphas used a pressing defense to stall the Beta offense. The defense was led by Mary Blume, Sally Wyrick, and Marla Moore. Jean Cranshaw led the scoring with 13 points, followed by Bev Moore with 8, and Ladeane Russell with 6.

The Betas had a tough time working the ball around against the taller Alphas. Janet Wheaton scored 7 points, and Joyce Fulenwider added 3.

Delta Basketball Future Brightened by Newcomers

The addition of several players has made the Deltas a strong threat to knock the defending champion Betas from their perch. The team concentrated on improving its showing on the hardwood in the first of the year. Last year the team had the ability to score but could not come up with its share of the rebounds. This weakness seems to have been strengthened.

The Deltas are led by co-captains Jan Forman and Jim Hendershot. Both made the all-star team last year and give the team the leadership they need and have the ability to put the ball through the hoop consistently. Mark Greathouse gives the Deltas the rebounding ability they need at center. He has been tough on the boards in the early games and has hit his share of the points. The guards are Freshmen

Jerry Cline and John Stark and veteran Wayne Dollar. These three divide their time up here to give the team leadership out front. Stark has played some at forward where he has been tough on the boards along with Greathouse. The only weakness the Deltas have is the bench. It doesn't lack talent, but is lacking in depth. Ken Berck, Barney Baggott, Buddy Scott, and Forrest Wise figure to see plenty of action even though starting off on the bench.

The Deltas scoring is divided up pretty evenly with the starting averaging in double figures. Team-work has been a main factor in the improved showing of the team this year. Currently, with a 2-2 record, the Deltas have demonstrated that they can give the Betas and Alphas a run for the championship.

★ SPORTS STARS ★

The three teams are blessed this year with outstanding freshman ball players. After football season, where every team had freshmen starters, many expected the frosh to be assigned a place on the bench for the hardwood season. But instead, every team has again started freshmen, and not only that, they have come through in grand style. Seven of the top eleven average scorers are freshmen.

The Betas sport such starters as Rickey and Baysinger. Rickey is second in scoring (17.3) and Baysinger with (10.9).

The Deltas can boast of three top-notch freshmen stars. Greathouse (third with 15.3), is followed by Cline and Stark (tied for sixth with 13.0) who have helped make the Deltas a high-scoring outfit.

The Alphas lost a potential star in Mike Sexton by transfer, but have their guards Moore and Powell tied for tenth with a ten point average.

TOP TEN

Player	Ave.
1. Hendershot	18.7
2. Rickey	17.3
3. Greathouse	15.3
4. Hanner	15.0
5. Forman	13.7
6. Cline	13.0
6. Stark	13.0
8. Manning	11.3
9. Baysinger	10.9
10. Moore	10.0
10. Powell	10.0

As I See It

LARRY KNIGHT
T.A.A. President

Thus far in the season, round ball predictions have run much as expected. After four games, the Betas are perched on top (4-0), the Deltas are second (2-2), and the Alphas are winless (0-4). Naturally, all do not view the situation in the same way as I, but as I see it, there should be no change in the end.

The lowly Alphas, hurt by the loss of 6'4" Mike Sexton, and lack of height and depth, will have to find more than one Everett Hanner to put together a win. Hanner is a 6'4" senior transfer from the Beta society and will help considerably in the Alpha offensive attack. Rounding out the Alpha starting five are Ray Moore and Gary Powell at guards and Lester Byington and George Whitten at forwards.

Shooting to unseat the Betas from the realm of the unbeaten are the Deltas. They sport the tallest front line in the league with 6'5" Mark Greathouse, 6'4" Jim Hendershot, and 6'3" John Stark. Out in the backcourt are good shooters Jerry Cline and Jan Forman. The weakest spot in the Delta attack is the bench. The starting five alone are nearly anyone's match, but when you have to win a ball game by running, you almost have to have that reserve strength. In their last outing with the Betas, the Deltas went off the court at half time with an 11 point lead, but soon lost out to the fresher, stronger opponent. A good second wind could brighten the Delta outlook.

The Betas, who are undefeated in their last 19 games, have Al Baysinger, Greg Rickey, and Larry Knight on the front line with Jim Knight and Lloyd Manning in the backcourt. The availability of solid bench strength has been the Betas most valuable asset in turning down opponents four times. Substitutes like Henry Horton, Claude Nicholas, Don Webb, and Cecil Cook can be counted on at any time to do a superb job.

Fellas, if you see a good many girls limping around campus with scrapes and bruises on their knees, don't worry, they've only been playing free-style girl's basketball. Again this year, the Alpha girls are the team to beat. They won their first game over the Betas by a large margin and will have to be my pick to win. The Deltas came from behind in the last few seconds to win over the Betas also. The Alphas are tall, both at forward and guard; the Deltas are tall at guard and the Betas are not tall at all. We will see closer ball games though, and it should be a very exciting season.

A special note of appreciation to the faculty and administration support of our athletic program. We hope that you are enjoying our Friday night basketball games and we do extend to all faculty members a warm welcome. I know some who have not missed a game.

Attend the ball game tonight at 7:00 P.M.! The Delta girls tipoff against the Alphas to decide the league leader. Immediately following is the men's game with the Betas pitted against the Deltas. Don't miss either game!!! Last issue "As I See It" column was a guest article written by Carl Taylor.
