T.N.C. RECEIVES $286,061 FEDERAL GRANT

Rabbi Falk leaves T.N.C.'s Chapel, accompanied by Prof. William Strickland, after the third of a series of lectures presented to the entire student body and faculty of the college.

Jewish Rabbi Falk Addresses Students

Recent guest lecturer for three consecutive chapel convocations was Rabbi Randall M. Falk, Rabbi of the Temple (Congregation Ohabai Shalom) Nashville, Tenn. His topics were the Faith of the Jew, the Worship of the Jew, and the Mission of the Jew.

Rabbi Falk also gave two morning lectures in the fine arts auditorium, one entitled "Nineteenth Century Reform Within Judaism" and the other, "the Modern Zionist Movement."

Before coming to the Nashville Temple, Rabbi Falk ministered to the Congregation Anshe Hased, Erie, Penn. His education includes the B.A. from the University of Cincinnati, the Master of Hebrew Letters and ordained Rabbi from Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati.

Rabbi Falk was invited by the chapel committee to speak to the student body to promote a better understanding of the Judeo-Christian heritage.

Nazarene Selected For Special Viet Nam Post

Miss Louise Hyde, member of Huntsville, Alabama First Church of the Nazarene, has been selected by the Federal Government for a special mission in Viet Nam. Miss Hyde will be traveling with a group of seven other government personnel who were chosen from several thousand employees. Miss Hyde is currently serving as an IBM operator at the government arsenal in Huntsville.

The group will remain in the United States subject to a forty-eight hour notice for the mission. They will serve approximately ninety days in Viet Nam. Because of security reasons, the group will not know its exact location until shortly before arriving in Viet Nam.

Miss Hyde feels "both honored and challenged and is looking forward to opportunities to witness." She was formerly employed by Trevecca College as secretary to Dr. Childers.

Choirs Set To Invade S.E. Zone

The three choirs of Trevecca College will depart Saturday morning, March 5 for extensive tours of the entire Southeastern Zone. The tours will extend through the entire spring break, with the choirs returning on Tuesday, March 15. On that day members of the choirs will register for classes and spring quarter will begin immediately.

The Men's Glee Club, embarking on its first full ten day tour, will travel the Northern route through Kentucky, West Virginia, and Virginia. The group will then head south into North Carolina and Georgia, with its final service in Atlanta. Wearing their traditional black blazers and grey slacks, the men have purchased striped ties and navy casual jackets to complete their travel wardrobes. Mr. James Van Hook, organizer and director of the Glee Club, has announced that two young ladies will accompany the group. Mr. David Erickson, field secretary of the college, will have charge of the tour and the services. Mr. Erickson accompanied the men last year on their one week tour. Their program will consist of three sections, the middle one featuring a variety of quartets, trios, and instrumentals.

The Treble-Tone Choir will embark upon a completely new "Western Tour". They will travel south through Tennessee, Alabama, and Florida before turning westward into Mississippi. Then, swinging northward, they will complete a cycle back to Nashville. Miss Barbara McClain, organizer of this all-ladies group, continues as their director. Dr. and Mrs. Greathouse, who accompanied the girls to Florida last year, will again travel with them as their leaders. Riser men for this year are Carl Taylor and Greg Rickey. Carl is also male soloist for the group this year. The program for the ladies' concert calls for three sections of song.

The A Cappella Choir, the veteran traveling group of the college from the standpoint of touring, is taking the Southern tour around the coast of Florida and will also touch several cities in South Carolina. The A Cappella Choir consists of both men and women and features two "tour costumes". They will again wear the traditional purple robes but will also take along their new blazers. Ramon Unruh, long time director of the choir, is with them again this year. Public Relations Director William Anderson will travel with A Cappella for the third consecutive year.

Choir tours serve a three-fold purpose. They bless the people spiritually; they recruit prospective students; and they establish warm feelings between the college and its constituency.

THE TENNESSEE HIGHER EDUCATION FACILITIES COMMISSION TODAY

APPROVED A GRANT FOR $286,061 FOR YOUR INSTITUTION

J H WARF COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION

871201 (R-6)

News of the federal grant for Trevecca's soon-to-be constructed science building came to Dr. Greathouse via telegram. The grant will make it possible to begin construction on the building much earlier than previously anticipated.

Funds Given For Science Building

A grant of $286,061 has been awarded to Trevecca Nazarene College, it was announced in chapel last Friday by Mr. Wm. Anderson, special assistant to the President in Planning and Development.

President Greathouse received word that the grant had been approved by the Tennessee Higher Education Facilities Commission via a telegram from Commissioner of Education for the State of Tennessee, J. H. Warf.

Their only stipulation of the grant is that the building constructed with its funds be used for science and that construction on the building have begun within one year of its awarding.

According to Mr. Anderson, "This grant will be used toward the construction of a new science building, the estimated cost of which is between $650,000 and $750,000.

The new building, if approved by the Board of Trustees at its annual meeting next month, will be a four-story structure and fully air-conditioned. It will include lecture classrooms, completely furnished laboratories, and offices. Special features of the science center include a greenhouse, an animal house, and an observatory and dome.

The new building will be located, pending approval of the college's master plan by the Board of Trustees, between the McClurkan Memorial Building and the Fine Arts Building, and will cover a section of the present main driveway, which will be rerouted behind the McClurkan Building and the girls' dormitories.

This proposed science building is a major step in the strengthening and enlargement of the science department of Trevecca Nazarene College.

Trevecca Represented At Government Seminar

By RALPH SEXTON

Last week in Washington, D.C., the Office of Public Affairs of the National Association of Evangelicals sponsored the Washington Seminar on Federal Service. The purpose of this seminar is to provide for students of liberal arts colleges of evangelical Christian emphasis a view of the relation between political and Christian ethics, and the way Christian men and women may demonstrate their witness in public service.

For its tenth annual meeting the Washington Seminar had twenty-four colleges present, with one hundred sixty students and advisors. Among these colleges were three of our Nazarene schools: Eastern, Olivet, and Trevecca. The delegation from Trevecca was led by the head of our History Department, Dr. Homer Adams. The students participating in the Seminar were: Merrol Hyde, Jerry McCreary, Wesley Houston, Macon Dew, and Ralph Sexton. Headquarters for the Seminar was the Continental Hotel one block from the Capitol. The day was packed from breakfast at 7:15 a.m. till the closing speeches at 9:30 p.m. The areas that the Seminar concentrated on during the brief three-day session were: the structural organization of the various branches and the implementation of their functions; how government officials and journalist view the operation of government; and how those interested in the federal services may qualify for appointment.

The Seminar was especially effective in showing the need for more Christian young people to go into Federal Service. If we as Christians do not represent our feeling in government, we cannot expect others to do it for us.

Liberal or Conservative?

There is a tendency on the part of many of us, as students, to judge the Christian experiences of others in terms of our own. If we consider something wrong for us personally, then for anyone else to commit this act is sin. For instance the student from one area of the country might feel that rings are wrong, yet he enjoys television purely as recreation. Then there is the student from another area who is accustomed to wearing rings but condemns television in any form. And there's always the story of the fellow who preached against coffee, but took No-Doz tablets to keep him awake. The point is that we are not on safe grounds when we judge others by our personal convictions.

This is not to say, by any means, that there are not certain clear cut cases in which one can be either right or wrong. The decision, however, of right or wrong lies in the effect that the outcome has upon the person's relationship with God. Someone once boldly stated, "There is no such thing as sanctification!" What he should have said was, "As far as I know, there is no such thing as sanctification." Personal experience is truly personal and no one can completely judge someone else's personal relationship with God.

Now, how does this relate to a topic of controversy on our campus? Some of our students feel that the college is becoming too liberal; others think the college's policies are too conservative. How can the college be both too liberal and too conservative at the same time? It can't, of course. The reason for the opposing view points, then, is that each student views the college in the light of his own personal convictions.

Unrest will decrease; students will be more compatible; and gossip will dwindle if each of us will respect the other person's personal relationship with God.

National Defense Loan Announcement

Because of your interest and concern in the proposed funding of the National Defense Education Act and the 1965 Amendments to this Act and because of further information received, the college administration would like to make the following statement, in addition to the information given by Mr. Hatfield, for your further information:

The following quote is from a statement made by the American Council on Education "In presenting his budget to the Congress on January 24, President Johnson proposed to shift the seven year old Defense Student Loan Program to the NEW PROGRAM OF FEDERALLY GUARANTEED PRIVATE LOANS UNDER THE HIGHER EDUCATION ACT OF 1965. The changes were part of a government wide proposal to increase private financing of federal loaned programs in order to hold down budget expenditures."

"The President's budget contains money to tide over the NDEA loan funds pending a shift to the low interests Guaranteed Loan Program. Separate legislation will be proposed to convert the programs from direct to guaranteed loans. Details of the transfer remain to be spelled out, but it was announced that the forgiveness feature of students who subsequently teach, would be retained."

"At a news conference on the Department of Health, Education and Welfare budget, Comptroller James F. Kelly, said the proposed transfer would result in more favorable experience in loan collections and would relieve institutions of higher education of the necessity of supplying ten per cent loans."

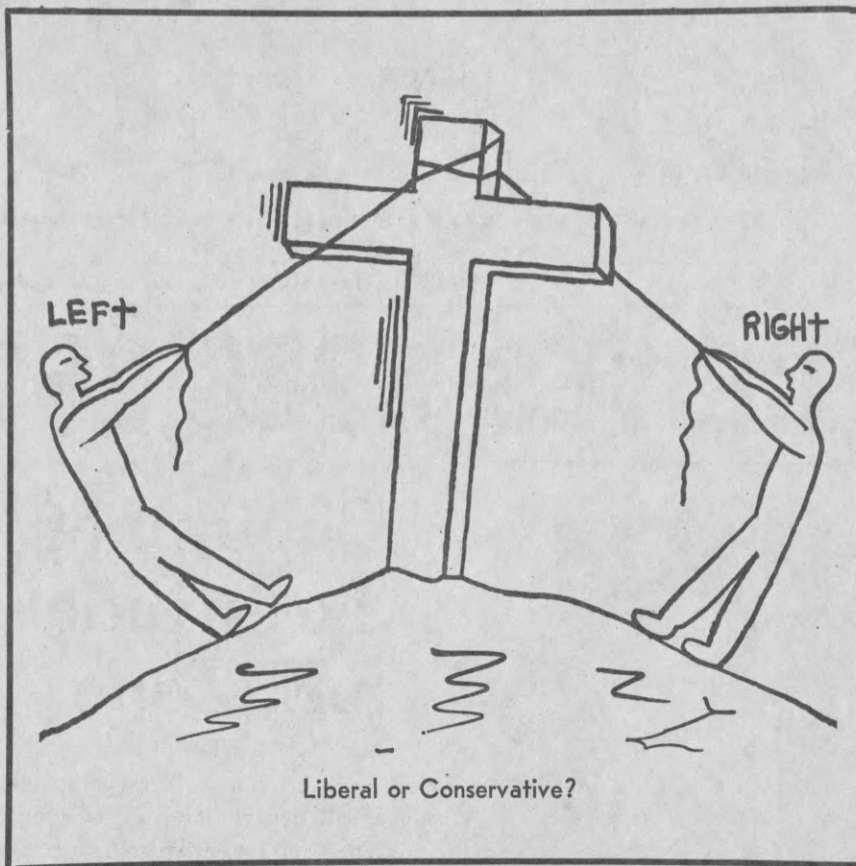

In a phone conversation on the morning of Thursday, Feb. 24, 1966, with Dr. Charles Blackman who is in charge of federal relations for the Council of Advancement of Small Colleges, Dr. Blackman made the following statement, "There will be perhaps a short period of inconvenience for the students as the transfer is made to the Guaranteed Loan Program. However, it is the intent of the Congress to pass the necessary legislation immediately to make the shift from the federal loan programs to the private finance guaranteed loans. The majority of students who are participating in the program will not be affected. However, there will be a change in the application procedures. Heretofore, the National Defense Loans have been made by the students. However, in the new Guaranteed Loan Programs, the parents will be involved."

In addition to the National Defense Student Loan Program that has been sponsored by the government, recently TNC sent its proposed federal asking budget for student financial aid to the federal government and included in this was $104,000 dollars for the Opportunity Grants Program—this is an out right scholarship based on a designated scale. In addition to the Opportunity Grants, the college has asked for some $103,000 in the Work Study Program. With these two programs, Student Financial aid will be increased over 100%, in addition to the fact that the new guaranteed loans will have most of the benefits and features of the old NDEA Program.

It was suggested by Dr. Charles Blackman of CASC that students make arrangement to participate in the Opportunity Grants and the Work Study Programs and wait for the Guaranteed Loan Program legislation or shift to the United Student Aid Funds available at TNC. Guidelines and procedures for participation in this new program will be transmitted to students immediately upon receipt.

The administration feels there is no cause for alarm at this time and Dr. Greathouse and the administration would like to assure you that the college will do everything possible to make funds available for you to continue your higher education in a Christian environment here at Trevecca.

FORUM: DEGAULLE SLAPS UNITED STATES

The trend these days in foreign countries is to antagonize the United States. The only countries that can do this are the ones we are giving aid to. Also, the countries we have helped in the past and are now on their feet have the right to slap us in the face. One such country is France, led by egotistical Charles DeGaulle. We have poured millions of dollars of aid into his country, only to be opposed in every policy we attempt to set up.

DeGaulle is what we would call an extreme self-centered egotist. He sees himself as the new leader of the free world. He wants to cut all economical and political ties with the United States so that he won't have to depend on us for anything. As of now we are giving no economic aid to DeGaulle and his pseudo world power. This is not to say that he wouldn't accept aid providing the rest of the world did not realize it.

Now the United States has to contend with France as well as Communist countries in making its foreign policies. Not only do Communist countries oppose us, but DeGaulle is also very critical. He has always been very critical of our policy in Viet Nam. He wants us to get out and says we have no right to be in Southeast Asia. This is quite similar to the line thrown out by the Communists. But I think DeGaulle yells "Go home, Yankees" for another reason.

Up until the time France was driven out of Viet Nam in 1954, they were in excellent control of the country. They began to be opposed by the Viet Minh, a Communist-backed group. Many Frenchmen were getting rich off the rubber plantations and rice paddies in Viet Nam. It would be difficult to force them out of the country. The French were soundly defeated at Dien Bien Phu and were driven out of Viet Nam. This has always been hard for the French people to accept. Now, twelve years later, the leading country from the Western Hemisphere is fighting a war that the French could not come close to winning. The French are very jealous now and will be even more jealous when the United States eventually wins the war. The Green Berets by Robin Moore points out that there have been some Frenchmen who have aided the Viet Cong. They hope some day to regain their hold in Viet Nam. These individuals think that by helping the Viet Cong, they will one day get their rubber plantations back. This idea, no doubt, lies in the back of DeGaulle's mind.

DeGaulle has done several things lately to try to make the United States look bad. Just recently he had said that all foreign troops must be off of French soil by 1969. Here he has reference to the N. A. T. O. forces in France. There are also some Americans serving their enlistment in France. This could be the beginning of the end for N. A. T. O. The organization never has been too effective, and this could start a trend by other member nations to drop out. DeGaulle would be pleased if this happened.

Recently the U. S. sent a number of Skyraider Jets to France as a gift. These were to be used in the defense of the country and it was hoped this might lead to better relations. DeGaulle sold them to Cambodia. This was a direct slam against the United States. Cambodia is supposedly a Neutralist country but is dominated by Communism. The Viet Cong have used Cambodia as a rendezvous point for several years. Our troops cannot cross the border to chase retreating Viet Cong forces because we would be breaking International Law. No doubt, Cambodia will one day use the Skyraider Jets against the United States.

The French people are beginning to tire of DeGaulle's tirades against the U. S. In the recent election DeGaulle called for a 60% majority to put him in office. When the votes were counted he did not get the majority he had called for. He was forced into a runoff with an unknown backed by the left-wingers in France. He won the run-off but it was clear that his popularity is diminishing.

What is the future of France? DeGaulle can probably run the

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

All over the country, young and old alike are proclaiming that "God is dead." Memorial services are being held on university campuses to pay tribute to the "deceased deity."

The reaction to these proclamations are varied. One declares that God is dead, and views it as catastrophic. This person realizes that now for the first time, man's fate rests entirely upon man's legislative and creative ability. This reaction brings with it a terrifying frustration.

Another reaction to the death proclamation, is that of gladness and joy. This person views God's expiration as a long awaited "Declaration of Independence." At last there exists no religious sanctions to govern the world. To this person, it means a psychological license to fulfill any or all the base desires and lusts he might have.

As ridiculous as it may sound, both of these reaction types accept the death statement as factual.

Another reaction is that of the T.N.C. student, which is that this is "just a stupid fad". This person feels that he is of the privileged group that knows better and is not involved. To think that any true believer is not involved is indeed naive.

Nevertheless, thousands are proclaiming God's death. If their god is dead, who killed him? Has religion caused his death? By religion, I mean the countless millions who are associated with a church, however vague it may be. Could it be that the church signed the death notice on their god?

Has the church been faithful to present "true Christianity"? The non-believing world has seen plenty of religion and very little Christianity. These atheists have seen far too many rituals, formalities, attendance goals, and childish contests, and not enough of God's love in action. The love of God in man seeks expression in practical ways. Unless the atheist can see God's love in loving your enemy, feeding the hungry, returning good for evil, and loving every man as our brother, their god will remain dead.

Asceticism will not resurrect their god, nor will an artificial, institutionalized religion. Only true Christianity can resurrect their god.

R. L. Stidham (student)

country as long as he wants to. DeGaulle will never change his attitude towards the United States. No doubt, if world opinion continues to go against the U. S., DeGaulle will even stiffen his opposition to oppose the United States. France will never become the power that DeGaulle proposes. Sometimes it is easy to see that he is playing right into the hands of the Communists. Whether this happens or not, DeGaulle will continue to attack the policies of the United States.

T.N.C. Affiliates With Student S.N.E.A.

The Student National Education Association is the professional association for college and university students preparing to teach. Although it is a national organization of state student education associations, the basic unit is the college or university chapter.

The Student NEA is an integral part of the National Education Association, just as local chapters and state student education associations are integral parts of the Student NEA.

The 1937 NEA Board of Directors approved the formation of "Future Teachers of America groups." Since then, FTA has grown from one high-school club of 72 members to 5500 high-school FTA clubs of 170,000 members and 840 college Student NEA chapters of 72,000 members.

The first national meeting of college members took place in the summer of 1948 when 13 chapter presidents-elect participated in the four-week program of the NEA Institute of Organizational Leadership at American University, Washington, D.C. In 1951 a constitution was drawn up. Two years later it was ratified by the chapters.

The responsibility of the Student NEA program to its individual members, as established by NCTEPS, is to provide opportunities for (1) personal and professional growth; (2) development of leadership skills; (3) understanding of the history, ethics, and programs at state and national levels, and (4) participation in professional activities at local, state, and national levels, especially integrating programs of local associations and student education associations.

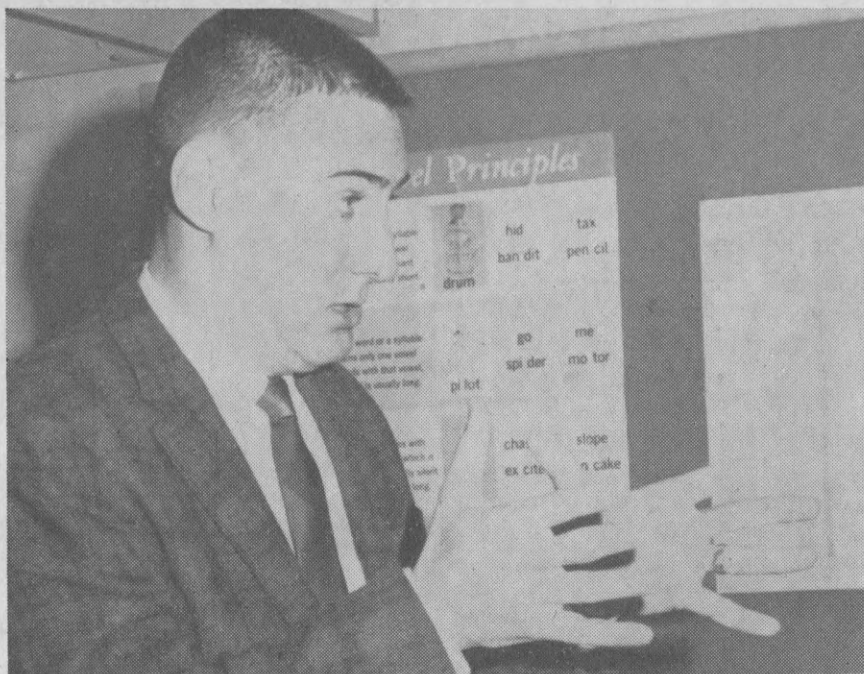

As an organization, the Student

NEA should deepen the interest of capable students in teaching as a career; encourage the careful selection and guidance of persons admitted to teacher education programs; and, through higher standards of preparation and the dissemination of information, contribute to a reasonable balance in teacher supply and demand.

Any student who is enrolled in a teacher education program in a properly accredited college or university may become a student member of the NEA. However, he or she must join through a chartered chapter (NEA Bylaws, Article I, Section 7). Membership in the Student NEA is for the school year, September 1 through August 31. Student NEA individual annual dues are $1. Student state education association dues and chapter dues are additional. Since all three are collected at one time they are called "unified dues."

Student NEA members are more closely related to the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards than to any other part of the NEA. The work of the Student NEA, its policies and programs, is developed within the framework of NCTEPS. This makes possible a close integration of the student program with the over-all program of NEA.

The SNEA officers for this year are as follows: president, Kathleen Kester; vice-president, Carolyn Quick; secretary, Mary Frances Buckner; treasurer, Paulette Beane; publicity chairman, Pat Cable. SNEA membership will remain open. Students interested in joining should see a club officer or go by Dr. Pennington's office.

Mr. Larry Jablecki, recent graduate of Bethany Nazarene College and graduate student at Vanderbilt University, firmly believes in and teaches that Philosophy and Religion work together.

Jablecki Incorporates Philosophy and Religion

by Ruth McDowell

Mr. Larry Jablecki, a philosophy student at Vanderbilt, is teaching part-time at Trevecca this year and is making big news on campus. He will be working another two years on his Ph.D. in Philosophy. Quite pleased with the progress of his introductory philosophy class, Mr. Jablecki's main concern is to present the conflict of ideas. He encourages his students to "critically evaluate any position and its claim to truth irrespective of any sentimental attachment."

A progressive young man, Mr. Jablecki is not hesitant to express his ideas on the subjects of the day. Speaking about tradition he says, "It should be viewed critically as to its relevance for today. If tradition won't stand up to critical, rational analysis, it should be junked."

"There exists between the teacher of philosophy and the teacher of religion," says Mr. Jablecki, "a necessary tension. Each keeps the other from assuming unwarranted dogmatism. The whole purpose of a philosophy class is to find out if accepted doctrines are true. What the theologian begins with is the natural target of the philosopher."

Mr. Jablecki says that we, as a denomination, are "not in a position to say we have the truth wrapped up in a package." "There is a definite place," he says, "for genuine Christian skepticism regarding traditions, customs, and revelations."

A man who is sold on his field, Mr. Jablecki believes that "Philosophy is not a game one can play if one wants to." A Christian philosopher is driven by a passion to understand and know. Philosophy is not just related to life, it is the essence of life. The man who attempts to be a genuine philosopher and Christian is constantly subjected to a tension between his faith and reason. His questions are geared to a better understanding of those things he lives by. Understanding ceases when these questions cease."

Wives Visit Upper Room

A communion service at The Upper Room provided a meaningful experience for a group of student wives on February 10. Members of the Student Wives' Association, accompanied by Professor and Mrs. Heaberlin, also heard the significance of the largest wood carving in the world of "The Last Supper," the World Christian Fellowship Window, and the symbols used in the design of the chapel. The group returned to the student center for refreshments.

Meeting the second Thursday of each month, the Student Wives' Association provides fellowship with those who have similar interests and problems as well as a variety of activities. Members exchange party games, recipes and other ideas. Knitting, flower arranging and cake decorating are other activities the group has enjoyed or has planned for future meetings.

This year's officers are: Kay McKellan, president, Carolyn Ries, vice-president, and Carol Hoffman, secretary. Sponsors are Mrs. Great-house and Mrs. Heaberlin.

At the March meeting, each member is to bring two favorite recipes, one to be a dessert, as well as the materials needed for a needlecraft such as knitting, crocheting, and embroidery. Someone will be present to instruct in each of these areas. All student wives are invited to attend and participate.

Association Grants $500 to Library

An Association of College and Research Libraries grant for $500 has been awarded to Trevecca Nazarene College Library.

The grant will be used to strengthen the classical literature section. Mrs. A. B. Mackey, librarian, said the money will go toward the purchase of a 500 volume set of classical literature.

In addition to the grant there have been a number of additional improvements to the library facilities. Two specially built index tables which will double the available space have been added to the periodical reading room.

Recently several members of the Peabody Library School staff visited the campus. Included were Mrs. Frances Cheney, Dr. Wiley Williams, Mr. Stanley Roscoe, and Miss Jim Matthews.

After touring the library the group were guests at a luncheon at the Albert Pick Motel. Those present at the luncheon for Trevecca were Mrs. A. B. Mackey, Ray Kosher, and Jeanne Sugg.

WEBB'S LATE GOAL NETS BETA TOURNEY VICTORY

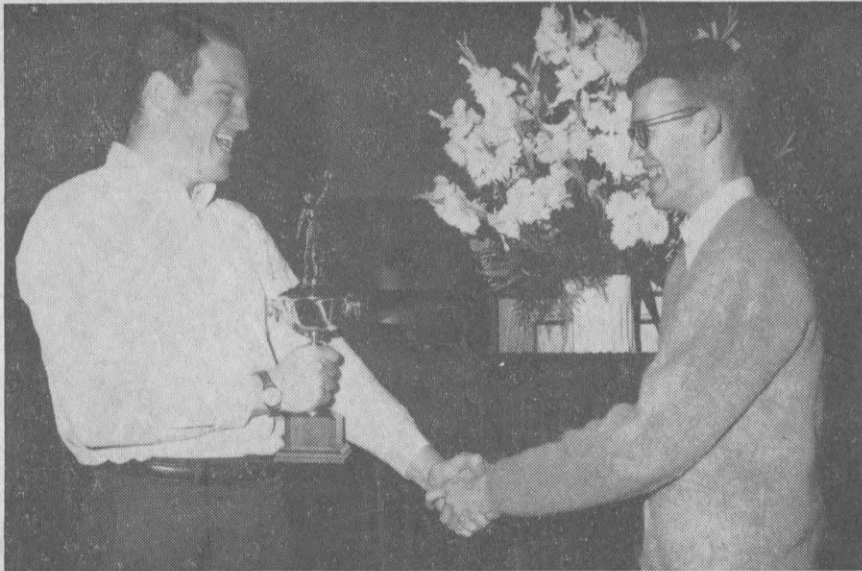

The 1966 Society Basketball Tournament got under way with the Deltas pitted against the Betas. On the basis of a strong showing in their final four games of the regular season, the Betas were picked by most to be the team to beat. The Deltas almost pulled an upset in the opening contest, but dropped a close one, 63-59. Ken Walker and Don Webb were big guns for the Betas as they fired in 25 and 18 points each. At mid-game the score stood 27-25 and the Deltas maintained a lead most of the last half, but lost it to a hungry, fired up Beta five in the final minutes. Jerry Cline was the game's leading scorer, pumping 32 points, 21 in the last half. Jim Hendershot added 11.

The League Champion Gammas paced by Larry Knight's 27 points and Don Wiley's 22 points raced over the Alphas for a first round win, 80-56. The Alphas held their own in the first half, as they trailed by only two, 26-24 at this mark. Mike Sexton singled the nets for 28 points in leading the Alphas, followed by George Whitten with 10. This game matched the Alphas and Deltas in the consolation game and the Betas and Gammas in the Championship contest.

Third place in the tourney went to a hard working Alpha team as they walloped the outmanned Deltas 60-35. Sexton led the Alphas again with 22 points getting plenty of help from George Whitten and Les Byington with 10 points and Bud Schrope adding 9. Jerry Cline held the Deltas up with 22 points.

In the game of the year in everyone's eyes, the Betas won a thriller in the final 5 seconds, 69-67, as Beta sharpshooter, Don Webb hit a jump shot from the edge of the circle to sink all hopes of a Gamma tourney championship. The game was a delight to spectators of both teams as it was the second time since Kenny Walker joined the once sputtering Betas, that the two teams have battled to within two points. Ken poured in 29 points, hitting hooks from everywhere as he led the Betas offensively. Don Wiley dumped 22 points in the losing cause, receiving help from Jan Forman with 16. No better ballgame has been played at TNC was the reaction from most fans and many were too stunned to even comment. The 1966 Society Tournament Champs, the Beta Society, won their last six ball games without defeat. Members were Claude Nicholas, Terry Rickey, Ken Walker, Don Webb, Al Baysinger, Jack Steenbergen, Forrest Wise, Nolan Livingstone and Carl Taylor.

Sophomores are Champs; Cop Circle-K Tourney

Mike Sexton, Mark Greathouse and Greg Rickey tossed in 16, 15, and 15 points respectively to lead the Sophomores to a 71-67 opening victory over the Freshmen in the annual Circle-K sponsored Class Tournament. By many this had been considered the top game of the tourney as both teams were fairly evenly balanced and loaded with top talent. The Sophomores, who led by as many as nine points early in the second half were in front throughout most of the game. Don Wiley, Richard Thompson and John Maxwell scored 14, 14, and 13 points respectively for the losing frosh.

In the other first-night action, the Seniors completely dominated play in running to an easy 92-64 romp over a determined Junior five. Seniors Jan Forman and Lester Byington had their biggest night of the year, scoring 23 points each to lead the winners. Ken Walker added 20 to their total. Jim Hendershot (23) and Larry Knight (21) provided most of the scoring punch for the Juniors, receiving help from Roger Costa with 14 points. Posting a win in this game matched the Seniors and Sophomores in the championship game and the Freshmen and Juniors in the consolation game for third place.

Again headed by Don Wiley and Richard Thompson with 21 and 19 points respectively, the young freshmen out-maneuvered and out-classed the Juniors in moving to a 69-29 victory for third place in the tournament. Wiley and Thompson came off the boards with nearly every rebound and looked for the man fast breaking. Larry Knight led the Juniors in the scoring department with 16 points, getting help from Costa with 7 points.

The Sophomore Class paced by Mike Sexton's 15 points and a great team effort broke a close game wide open in the second half to win 58-44 and claim 1st place in the annual Circle-K sponsored Class Tournament. Greg Rickey (11) and Mark Greathouse were high on the boards, grabbing all-important rebounds in helping lead their team past the Seniors. Ken Walker dumped in 18 points to pace the Seniors, followed by Claude Nicholas with 11 points. Playing for the champs were Mike Sexton, Mark Greathouse, Greg Rickey, Don Webb, George Whitten, Jerry Cline, Dan Smith, Bob Snodgrass and Al Baysinger. Ken Walker, Jim Knight, Jan Forman, Claude Nicholas and Lester Byington were the Senior members.

Basketball Over Baseball Ready

by Bob Duncan

Basketball season was wrapped up last Friday with the sophomores coming out on top of the Circle K Class Tournament. The Gammas finished first in society standings, but the Betas with Walker and company walked on to victory in the society tournament. The final game in society tournament was the most thrilling game of the season between the Gammas and the Betas going down to the final five seconds to decide who would come out on top.

The urge to get out and let off some steam is ever present with clues of warm weather in the air. Boys are running around in circles in search of a place to play ball. There are hopes of having at least the layout of a baseball field completed by the time Spring Quarter starts. If this isn't completed in time we will have to go elsewhere. The directors of parks gave us the word that we wouldn't be able to use their fields before the middle of April. One consolation is that all boys interested in playing baseball will have the opportunity to practice this Saturday. The time and location will be posted in the Daily Announcer. We will play softball, but where is the question.

The TAA Banquet is slated for May 14. It is to be different with Karen Salser and Karen Dean in charge of decorations and planning of the program. Don't miss it!
